WEATHER.

Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., 8 a. m., Jan. 27, 1892.

The local forecast for to-day and to-morrow is clear and warmer; much warmer Thursday evening.

The storm central over New England yesterday is now off Nova Scotia and will cause westerly gales to-day in New England. The "high," or clearing area, has advanced from Lake Superior southward and is now central at Cincinnati; it extends from Lake Superior to the gulf, and from Omaha to Washington.

A "low," or storm center has developed in Manitoba since last night which will probably influence this locality about Friday. The weather continues clear and warm in the northwest, and colder in all other sections. The temperature will rise all over the country to-morrow excepting in the South Atlantic states.

The lowest temperature within the United States was reported from Albany, which was 2 degrees below. The temperature in the St. Lawrence valley is still low, ranging from zero to 10 degrees below. The highest temperature in Toledo yesterday was 17 degrees. The lowest this morning was 4 degrees above.

THE CRISIS OVER.

Chile Will do Anything to Maintain Peace.

An Official Note Received From Egan.

Minister Pedro Montt May be Recalled.

He Has Misinformed His Government.

All the News From the Capitals of Two Countries on a Question that is Just Now Interesting the Whole World.

Washington, Jan. 27.—This government has received a long message from Minister Egan, conveying an offer on the part of the Chilean government for the settlement of all existing difficulties with the United States. This message confirms in every particular the statements that Chile had agreed to withdraw the offensive note sent by Senor Matta, to withdraw its request for the recall of Minister Egan, and to submit the Baltimore affair to the arbitration of some neutral nation or to submit the matter to the decision of the United States supreme court.

Mr. Egan states these propositions at greater length than the press dispatch, but the exact additions cannot now be ascertained. There is reason to believe, however, that the Chilean government not only offers to withdraw the offensive note, but in addition offers to apolgize for it.

It also agrees to the positions taken by the United States in regard to the right of asylum and the safe conduct of refugees.

Mr. Egan's dispatch was submitted to the cabinet at its meeting. The entire question was discussed, and it is understood that a difference of opinion was developed as to the propriety of accepting the offer without modifications so far as it related to the submission of the question of Chile's liability for the attack on the sailors of the Baltimore to arbitration of a neutral nation or to the decision of the supreme court.

The president will doubtless communicate Mr. Egan's dispatch to congress, but will probably not do so for several days unless it is called for by the house or senate.

There is no desire, members of congress say, to press the government of Chile, and they are disposed to accept the affair as entirely satisfactory. It was pointed out that as Chile's government had disavowed responsibility or sympathy with the attack on the sailors of the Baltimore, she would naturally be cautious in whatever she said on this subject, as the government's connection with the matter would be one of the main questions on which the decision of either arbitrators or the United States supreme court would depend in considering the question of reparation.

It was generally conceded that the proposition to refer to foreign arbitration, or to the decision of the United States supreme court the entire Baltimore incident, is a proposition which can't well be rejected by this government.

There is one point in the dispatch from Santiago, however, that is somewhat mystifying to all, and that is why the Chilean government should deem it necessary to recede from its request for the withdrawal of Minister Egan, since that was not one of the demands contained in the ultimatum of the United States. This is a concession which was not expected.

The senators generally were disinclined to express any opinion until after the official communication made by Chile to the state department is made public. "I would prefer," said Senator Dawes, "to wait until we get fuller information before giving any expression of opinion. We want to know how broad the concessions of Chile are, and how far she has conceded to the demands of our ultimatum."

Senator Cockrell was manifestly gratified that his constant predictions had been verified. "I have always maintained," said he, "that it was simply foolishness to talk about war with Chile. Of course their proposition for arbitration will have to be accepted. It woul be ridiculous for a nation of 65,000,000 people to make war on a little nation of 3,000,000 in a question of this kind."

Senator Teller thought that the position of Chile was still somewhat indefinite. "I do not see that there is anything to arbitrate so far. It does not appear that Chile has yet said that she will make compensation, but merely suggests the reference of the whole Baltimore dispute to arbitration. However, I have no doubt that they will say that they will pay whatever compensation is awarded. It is the principle involved that we are contesting for. If they express their regret for the occurrence and withdraw the offensive note and make any kind of proposition for compensation I have no doubt this government will accept it, however small it may be. It is not a question of money but of preserving our dignity in the matter."

"It appears to be somewhat indefinite," said Senator Dubois of Idaho, "just what Chile proposes to refer to arbitration or to our supreme court. If it is the question of how much indemnity they are to pay, that is a perfectly proper matter for adjustment in that way. But if it means to refer the whole question of whether we are entitled to an apology and compensation, then I do not see that that is a matter that the supreme court could decide any better than the two houses of congress. The war-making power, that is, the two houses of congress and the president, should be fully able upon the evidence produced to decide whether apology and indemnity are necessary to the preservation of the true dignity of this country. Having decided that these should be exacted from Chile, I do not see that there would be anything to arbitrate except the question of amount of indemnity."

Senator Chilton said: "I have believed from the beginning that under the facts a war with Chile was not necessary to maintain the national dignity or protect American interests and could not be justified upon any enlightened international code of honor."

Senator Sawyer: "If the press dispatches from Santiago published this morning are entirely correct, then I see no reason why the trouble should not be practically settled and at an end, very soon."

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, said there is no reasonable probability of war. Amongst those 3,000,000 Chileans there are many who appreciate the greatness of this country and how futile it would be for her to engage us in war, and for this reason it is not at all likely that she would wish to fight us."

Senator Colquitt thought it exceedingly unfortunate that the president should have sent his message and the correspondence to congress before Chile had made answer to the demands contained in the ultimatum. There was no doubt but that the affair would be peacefully settled and without war.

Senator Faulkner thought that if Chile had apologized for issuing the Matta letter, all other matters for indemnity and reparation could be properly referred to arbitration. He was satisfied the United States would do everything consistent with dignity and honor in settling the matter and without having to resort to war. After apologizing Chile should salute the flag of the United States which she had insulted.

It is said that Senator Hawley, discussing the situation with a naval officer, remarked that he regarded the proposition as an evident effort on the part of Chile to meet the United States half way and to be fair.

Representative E. B. Taylor, of Ohio, chairman of the judiciary committee in the last congress, said: "I am content with anything consistent with the honor of this country. I don't want to thump Chile—she is too small—but yet I want to thump anybody who spits in my face."

Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi—"It seems to me as if we were not going to have any row. It looks as if they were not going to force the issue. It is entirely satisfactory."

Mr. Borrows, of Michigan—"I am very glad to see some returning sense on the part of the Chilean people. It is their only safe and wise course."

Representative Montgomery, of Kentucky—"Peele, of Arkansas; McMillin, of Tennessee; McCreary, of Kentucky, and many others expressed themselves as satisfied with Chile's reply.

Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, said that the dispatch indicated such a remarkable change on the part of the Chileans that he could hardly credit it. It was all that we could ask, but that Chile had offered to refer the case to our own tribunal after all the delay and acrimony which was evident in the correspondence astonished him.

DISCUSSED IN CHILE.

The Ultimatum Before the House of Deputies.

New York, Jan. 27.—From Santiago the Herald has the following cablegram:

The question of the relations between Chile and the United States of North America came up in the chamber of deputies.

Deputy Jordan brought the matter before the chamber. He said much alarm and concern existed in the public mind relative to the condition of affairs between the two countries.

He thought that the ministers should make some definite statement about the mater. The fact that, in his opinion, the United States was a great nation, honorable and just in its dealings, was emphasized, and he could not believe that there was any desire on her part to humiliate Chile. He felt positive of her good intentions and urged the chamber to remember the position which she assumed when the French occupied Mexico.

To the United States, continued Senor Jordan, Chile and all the smaller South American republics must look for protection in the expounding and enforcement of the Monroe doctrine.

Chile, he felt sure, ought to meet the demands made upon her in a friendly manner and acknowledge with regret the unfortunate occurrences of which complaint is made.

The general sentiment of the chamber was favorable to the sentiments expressed by Senor Jordan, with the single exception of Joaquin Walker-Martinez, who has been long known as entertaining an active dislike to Americans. He spoke against Senor Jordan's request, but his opposition was unimportant.

In reply to Senor Jordan's interpellation, Minister Pereira stated that an answer to that ultimatum of the United States had been sent to Minister Egan which he hoped and believed would prove satisfactory to the United States, but at present he was not a liberty to divulge its contents.

At a meeting of the council of state which considered the ultimatum presented on the part of the United States by Minister Egan President George Montt presided.

The meeting was of anything but a cheerful character and there was some excited talk. The debate was prolonged for some three hours. I saw some of the members of the cabinet after the meeting adjourned and they looked harrassed and worn.

I am informed that Foreign Minister Pereira presented for the consideration of the counsel a note to be sent in reply to the ultimatum of the United States which expresses regret for the Baltimore incident, and begs to submit that question to arbitration, whether to a friendly nation or to the United States supreme court, and asks to retire Matta's offensive note, but with reservations and modifications.

There was no opposition to this note on the part of the conservadores, but the liberals, under the lead of Eduardo Matte, formed a majority and Pereira's note was indorsed.

The papers which were favorable to the late government of Balmeceda have published the ultimatum sent by the United States with the wildest kinds of comments.

They do this in order to arouse public feeling. British Minister Kennery has tendered his good offices to Minister Pereira on behalf of the British government.

It is thought here that there is a possibility that the government of the United States will not regard the terms of the reply as satisfactory.

WANT TO GO TO WAR.

Young Men Ready to Fight Uncle Sam's Battles.

New York, Jan. 27.—Ever since the beginning of the Chilean controversy there have been numerous applications for enlistment at the Brooklyn navy yard, but since the determined war talk of the past week there has been a noticable increase in the number of young volunteers who loiter around the York street gate. They are not all Brooklynites, but hail from various places and represented several nationalities.

More than 30 of these men were near at hand when a reporter called at the navy yard and most of them conversed determinedly as to their desire to become American tars. Some were beardless youths; others bore the abundance of hirsute appendage, and while the greater part were well clothed, there were those whose threadbare clothing was a poor preventive against the frosty air.

"For the past week or ten days we have been kept busy with applicants to be sailor men," said Lieut. C. A Adams, of the recruiting ship Vermont "On an average we have from 55 to 70 applicants daily.

"Of course we do not accept them all. On the contrary we are as strict as ever, and have not deviated from the rules in vogue for some time past. Every applicant is received upon his merits, although we prefer mechanics and tradesmen, as they are always useful.

"At present we have 151 recruits on the Vermont subject to draft. This includes 18 men intended for the Dolphin. The Brooklyn navy yard is the only recruiting station for sailors. Last year we handled 2,471 men.

"While we have all nationalities among our sailormen, the Americans and negroes head the list. Fifty per cent. more Americans enlisted last year than in 1887."

The Miantonomoh will probably leave the Brooklyn navy yard on Monday. Her destination is said to be the West Indies.

CHILE COULD NOT FIGHT.

The President's Message Has Injured Her Credit.

New York, Jan. 27.—A Washington special is as follows: "The most distinguished republican financier in the United States senate and a leading member of the senate committee on foreign relations, to which the president's message was referred, said to-night:

"There will be no war with Chile. Some people will think that President Harrison's message is likely to cause hostilities. On the contrary, the message will prevent them, because it will cripple Chile financially. To my knowledge Chile

A Complete and Humble Apology Made

For the Indignities Heaped on the People.

A Message Received From Santiago

Which Entirely Dispels the War Cloud.

North Americans are Held in Respect and the Stars and Stripes will Continue to be a Protection to Its People When Abroad.

New York, Jan. 27.—A special to the Commercial-Advertiser from Washington says: There will be no war.

Senor Montt has received another dispatch from Chile.

It is unequivocal in its expression of regret, and cannot but be satisfactory to the government. It is a complete apology.

Speaking of the reply that Chile has made to the ultimatum, Mr. Blount said: "The whole matter is settled, and nothing but preliminaries remain to be arranged."

The dispatch speaks with the most profound regret of the attack on the Baltimore sailors, declares a sincere feeling of friendship for the United States and a profound respect for our flag and uniform. It speaks feelingly of the presence of American men-of-war in their ports during the revolution and of the friendly attitude of our officers and men at that time. It says that, entertaining the feeling of friendship which Chileans do toward the United States, it would be impossible for them to sympathize with or to fail to feel the most profound regret for the assault upon the United States sailors.

As an evidence of their perfect good faith they say they propose in connection with the complete and humble apology that the matter of reparation be referred to the United States supreme court to determine.

Mr. Blount said that any feeling of hostility or resentment dropped out before such an apology.

The president will make a reply to Chile, and then communicate the Chile message and his reply to congress.

PRAYING FOR DEATH.

Sad Scene at the Bedside of Cyrus W. Field.

A Once Great Power Completely Broken Down and Calmly Hoping for the End to Come.

New York, Jan. 27.—Cyrus W. Field is praying to die. No one who has known him believed that he would ever yield to anything that assailed until breath ceased. But it is otherwise.

"Oh, it's no use, no use," he faintly says. "It's all nothing now. Oh, that it should all come to this.

"I want to die; don't do anything for me; I shall not live," is uttered with feeble voice.

The climax of Mr. Field's illness has crushed those who watch and love him and baffles the physicians' skill. The sick man is lingering, with no marked change.

HENRY COUNTY MYSTERY.

Officers Think They Have Scented a Crime,

And Are Trying to Explain a Disappearance.

Was Curtis Dow Murdered, and If So Where Were His Remains Buried?

Napoleon, Jan. 27.—(Special)—Napoleon is somewhat wrought up over the prospects of the development of a first-class murder in Freedom township.

Curtis L. Dow, "Doc," as he was familiarly known, has been a resident and prominent citizen of Freedom township for 30 years. He was a bachelor and lived all of his time by himself on his farm, the tenant and his family occupying another house.

Up to within late years "Doc" was considered well fixed, but, becoming involved, he placed a mortgage on his farm and allowed his taxes to overrun.

In June of '89 he made a trip to his brother's home, in Loudonville, Ashland county, with the intention of borrowing money. Nothing was heard of him until one night in November he appeared at the tenant's house and announced his intention to stay all night. He went to bed and arose about 3 o'clock in the morning, telling the tenant that he must be going, which he did.

He was never seen after that.

The tenant, whose name is Miller, claims that he thought the doctor had gone to some of his relations, and therefore never told the circumstance.

But he never showed up in this county and last August his property was sold at sheriff's sale, some $1,500 remaining in the official's hands which is still subject to Dow's order.

About a month ago parties here received a letter from the brother in Loudenville asking the whereabouts of his brother, stating that he had not been heard from since his visit there in 1889.

The answer was in substance as stated above, and nothing was heard until several days ago when the brother arrived here with a detective. The premises were examined thoroughly, but if any clue as to the clearing up of the mystery was found they were successful in keeping it secret.

The brother was very much overcome with grief and said that he had every reason to believe that "Doc" was murdered and buried in a ravine near his farm.

He said that the snow prevented them making the investigations that they had started out to make, but that he would soon return.

That the brother is dead, there is not a citizen in Napoleon who doubts, and that he was foully murdered by parties who are already suspected is gaining credence every day.

A week or two will develop facts that will make certain questions very different for the suspicioned parties to answer.

The scene of the supposed murder is almost within a stone's throw of where John Treadwell was murdered by John Cowel in 1865; and also where George Williams and wife were butchered by Wesley Johnson in 1882. Both murderers were hung, the only capital punishment ever administered in Henry county.

HOW GRAVES WILL HANG.

Mrs. Barnaby's Poisoner to Execute Himself.

An Automatic Death Trap in the Prison.

A Tender Hearted Warden Has Devised a Means by Which the Victim Himself Liberates the Weight.

Denver, Jan. 27.—By a unique mechanical contrivance to be used at the execution, if it takes place, Dr. T. Thatcher Graves, who is now under sentence of death in the Colorado penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. J. A. Barnaby, the condemned man will hang himself.

By this ingenius appliance Dr. Graves, when he steps on the platform, sets in motion by his own weight the machinery which in a short period causes a heavy weight to drop and himself to be suspended. Once arranged, before the execution, not a hand touches any part of the apparatus, not even so much as a button, as in the case of an execution by electricity.

This novel appliance was used once in the execution of a negro convict, and answered the purpose. Recently many new ideas have been added to it, and in Dr. Graves's case it is expected to work to perfection.

This death machine is the only one of its kind on record. It is the invention of a tender-hearted deputy warden who had been assigned to cut the rope at a previous execution, but who, rather than perform that duty, sets his wits at work to invent a contrivance which would do the undesirable work for him. This he did His conscience is now serene. According to Colorado law all legal executions must take place in the death house within the penitentiary walls. Restrictions similar to the New York law require that the details of executions, as well as the day and hour of carrying out the sentence, must be kept from the public. The newspapers are forbidden more than merely to announce that the sentence has been carried out.

The death house is a two-story stone structure. The death chamber is on the first floor. In the center of the death chamber is a platform about four feet square, raised, perhaps, five inches above the level of the stone floor. Over this platform dangles the noose. The hangman's rope runs over a pulley wheel at the ceiling, and disappears through a small aperture into the adjoining room. To the end of the rope, in this second room is attached an iron weight of 370 pounds.

This weight is supported, six feet from the floor, by a cross beam, which may be likened to the beam of a large pair of balancing scales. On its end opposite the weight is suspended a small wooden cask containing about two gallons of water. This water cask may be moved from right to left and an exact balance thereby given to the cask and the iron weight. In the bottom of the cask is a wooden plug, and connected with it is a small, strong cord leading from the plug to the platform in the death chamber.

When Dr. Graves steps on the platform he will know that the last moments of his life have begun. His weight on the platform removes the plug from the cask, the water rushes from it until the cask is sufficiently lightened, and then the heavy weight on the opposite end of the beam drops on a thick mattress on the floor. There is no noise about it. The only thing that can be heard is the splashing of a small stream of water on the stone floor.

On the wall of the death chamber is a dial which indicates the amount of water in the cask. As it begins to diminish the dial moves and indicates to a second the time when the weight will drop. In Dr. Graves' case the amount of water in the cask will be so determined that not to exceed 60 seconds will elapse from the time he steps on the platform until the weight falls.

The condemned man is prepared in his cell for the execution and is then led across the corridor into the death chamber. The only thing to do then is the placing of the black cap. The victim is requested to step upon the platform, and as he does so a self-fastening clasp is adjusted by the deputy, thus binding his legs firmly together. The witnesses stand silently grouped around the room. The machinery does its work and the execution is over.

The sentence of the court is that Dr. Graves must hang in the course of the two weeks beginning January 31. The day of the week and the hour of the day is left to the warden.

THIRTY-THREE TO-DAY.

Emperor William Celebrating a Birthday.

The German Empire Puts on Its Holiday Clothes and Has a Good Time.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—This is the thirty-third anniversary of the birth of Emperor William of Germany, and the empire consequently, is more or less on fete.

The imperial family at the breakfast hour, waited in a body upon the emperor and presented him with numerous floral offerings and with many presents. The emperor seemed to be much pleased and said a few gracious words to all present.

At 10:30 this morning the imperial family attended religious services at the chapel royal of the castle. A largely attended reception in the white hall followed, all the leading members of the diplomatic corps being present.

In the meantime a detachment of artillery, in the Lustgarten fired an imperial salute of 101 guns. At 12:30 there was a grand military reception, all the most prominent officers of the army and navy being present. The emperor also received the members of the government and was presented with congratulatory addresses from the mayors and municipalities of many of the great and small cities of the empire.

The emperor, throughout these ceremonies, was beaming with good humor and warmly greeted by all.

THE CRISIS OVER.

hns for weeks been vainly trying to float securities in Europe at satisfactory figures.

"The message makes it impossible for her to borrow a dollar in the money markets of Europe. War without money is impossible. Chile will very soon find herself powerless to enter upon a contest with the United States. England and Germany will both close their banking centers to Chile's request for credit, if she intends using their money in a contest against a nation which must, in the end, crush out her existence.

THINKS BLAINE WANTED WAR.

The Peace Offerings Were Only to Gain Time.

London, Jan. 27.—The Chronicle this morning publishes an article from an American correspondent bearing on the difficulty between the governments of the United States and Chile.

The writer says that he has traveled with Blaine and attended his political meetings in nearly every state of the union, and had thus come to recognize his strength of character and to appreciate the dangerous control he exercises over the American people.

The correspondent declares that when Mr. Blaine hurried to Washington two months ago he pretended to be in favor of a policy of peace, but in reality only wanted to gain time. He knew that a sudden war between the United States and Chile would mean defeat, perhaps disastrous for his country, which would be followed by a wave of adverse public opinion which would sweep him and his party out of power.

When Mr. Blaine arrived in Washington he proceeded to order war material and supplies to be shipped to San Francisco, and ordered the war ship Baltimore ostensibly to have an overhauling, but really to embark munitions of war.

Although Brooklyn and Philadelphia are the most Puritanical cities of the Union the workmen employed in the navy yards at these places were kept working making preparations for war on Sundays without intermission. Mr. Blaine knowing that public sentiment would justify him in thus breaking the Sabbath. The secretary of state also superseded the drawing room Admiral Walker by the fire-eating Gehrardi.

The opposition party did not object to these self-evident designs, and never demanded that the Chilean correspondence be made public.

War with Chile, followed by a military occupation of that country for some years would give American merchants a chance to capture trade and would please Mr. Blaine who complained that the new American tariff had not made new markets.

Once established in South America it would be easy to find excuses to remain in there and it was probable that a revolution would break out in every South American republic which would endanger the immense English investments in these countries.

In conclusion the correspondent says: "Mr. Blaine wants and means to quarrel. He is ambitious and knows how to flatter the vanity and love of the Americans for the almighty dollar. If England desires to avoid a war she had better counsel Chile to submit to the demands of the United States."

WANT INDEMNITY.

Riggin's Relatives Will Formulate a Claim Against Chile.

Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—John I. Riggin, of this city, brother of Charles W. Riggin, the boatswains mate of the cruiser Baltimore, whose brutal murder by the Chileans in the streets of Valparaiso was called to the attention of congress in President Harrison's message, consulted Attorney W. W. Ker yesterday with regard to the indemnity that will be exacted from Chile for the taking of his relative's life. The result of the interview will be the early filing with the secretary of state of claims for damages on behalf of the brother and two sisters of the deceased—Mrs. Mary Zimmerman and Mrs. Ella Matthews, both of this country.

When Capt. Ker, who was assistant attorney general of the United States under the late Benjamin Harris Brewster, during President Arthur's administration, and who is familiar with all the details involved in the legal procedure of such matters was asked as to the course he would pursue, he said: "I suppose that in this instance the matter will be arranged as in all such cases. Chile will be compelled to pay a certain sum of money for indemnification of the sufferers."

These are special cases of damage and there is no law governing them. The actual injury sustained is not the guide, but damages are awarded with a view of punishment upon the aggressor—to serve as a warning to others. In this way the parties in interest receive not only their ordinary loss but get what the law calls vindictive or explenary damages."

Counsellor Ker has not made up his mind yet as to the exact amount to press for. After further consultation with his clients he will at once notify the state and navy departments of the claims that will be presented.

CHILE'S REPLY.

It Is Reported To Be Unsatisfactory to This Government.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Minister Montt was shown the dispatch from Santiago, published in the morning papers, to the effect that several members of the Chilean cabinet had said in interviews that Senor Montt had misled his government as to the state of affairs between the United States and Chile by cabling them that a settlement of affairs was proceeding in a satisfactory manner.

Minister Montt said he was unable to say that there was any truth in the publications as he had not been advised by his government that he made an error of judgment.

When asked if he had sent such a dispatch to the Chilean minister of foreign affairs, he laughed and replied, evasively, that he had sent a large number of dispatches to Chile lately.

So far as can be learned at this time no instructions have yet gone to Minister Egan respecting the reply of Chile to the note of the United States of the 21st instant.

The reply of Chile is said to be a lengthy document, 3,000 words or more, covering the whole trend of the controversy in a general way. A gentleman who is believed to be conversant with its contents said it was a very clever piece of diplomatic work, to which another gentleman with whom he was talking, engaged in the diplomatic service, speaking from the terms of the reply as they had been given in the press, responded: "It is pure trifling."

"Oh, but all diplomacy is trifling," said the first speaker, and all seemed to agree.

The reply, as stated in these dispatches yesterday, is most unsatisfactory, for the reason that it contains nothing definite on the subject of an apology for the assault upon the Baltimore sailors, although Senor Pierrera says the government of Chile deplores its occurrence, as it has in the past. The offer to refer the case to the United States supreme court for arbitration is said to relate only to the amount of indemnity to be paid.

As to the withdrawal of the Matta circular note of December 11, the reply makes no mention of acceding to the demand that the disavowal of the offensive terms contained in that note be made as public and general as was the circulation of the note originally.

The recall of Minister Egan, as requested by Minister Montt on the 20th, will not be insisted on by the Chilean government.

The above it is believed covers the principal points of the document. It will probably not be sent to congress until Minister Egan has been instructed what answer to make and his report thereon has been received.

Secretary Tracy is confined at his home to-day by an attack of rheumatism.

ALL WAR TALK.

San Francisco is Getting Ready to Protect Herself.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—Nothing was heard in San Francisco to-day but war talk. The sentiment here is unanimous for war with Chile if she does not make ample apology.

There is great activity about military posts. Plans for the batteries on the San Francisco shore are all completed and work is under way. Col. Graham is platting the bay by triangulation for the benefit of artillerymen. In case of war San Francisco will be the chief base of supplies, and the distributing point for men and munitions of war.

Want to Fight.

Birmingham, Conn., Jan. 27.—The Derby and Shelton board of trade, at its annual meeting last night, rejected by a vote of 23 to 2 the resolution transmitted from the New York board of trade and transportation, urging that the Chilean trouble be submitted to arbitration. In opposing the resolution A. W. Paige said we were regarded by other countries as weak and pusillanimous, and it was time to assert our dignity and strength.

Schley in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Capt. Schley, who commanded the Baltimore at Valparaiso at the time of the assault upon the sailors there last October, has arrived in Washington in obedience to orders from Secretary Tracy, and was at the navy department yesterday afternoon in conference with Secretary Tracy. Subsequently he called on the president and Secretary Blaine.

Will Be Published Saturday.

London, Jan. 27.—A telegram from Santiago says the text of Chile's reply to the American ultimatum will not be published until Saturday.

The U. S. Squadron.

Montevideo, Jan. 27.—The United States squadron remains off this port.

Montt In Trouble.

London, Jan. 27.—The Times correspondent at Santiago de Chile cables that the position of Senor Pedro Montt, at Washington, is seriously compromised, he having advised his government all along that Mr. Blaine constantly gave him pacific assurance.

Response Not Ready.

London, Jan. 27.—A telegram from Santiago says the text of Chile's reply to the American ultimatum has not yet been disclosed but, Chile, relying upon the advices from Minister Montt, at Washington, considers the settlement practically arranged.

UNCONDITIONAL APOLOGY.

New York, Jan. 27.—The Evening Sun's Washington special says it is learned that Chile has made an unconditional apology.

"ONE VINCENT J. EMMICK"

Seems to be Having a Hard Time.

Some Inside Facts on the Protest of the German Republicans Against His Appointment as Oil Inspector.

Toledo's fat Mayor, is again in hot water, this time with the Germans who he played with before election and made dupes of afterwards.

When it became known through the announcement in the Bee that Mayor Emmick was a candidate for the state oil inspectorship a large number of the Germans of the city resolved to defeat him and as stated in yesterday's Bee a petition against him was put into circulation.

This petition was started on last Saturday and is headed as follows:

"To Hon. William McKinley, Governor:

"It has come to the knowledge of the undersigned citizens and republicans of the city of Toledo that one Vincent J. Emmick is a candidate for the Oil Inspectorship of the State of Ohio, and has represented himself as being the choice of the German republicans of this city. Therefore, we desire to protest against his appointment, believing that it would be distasteful to the German republicans as well as to the great mass of the people of the city and ask as citizens and German republicans, that this appointment be not made."

This petition has been very largely signed and the list of signatures includes many influential German republican citizens as well as a large contingent of reputable workingmen.

In an interview in the Blade last evening Mayor Emmick talks very saucy regarding the promoters of the petition that is being circulated against him for the state oil inspectorship. As is his custom, he calls those who oppose him very hard names and says that the petition has only been signed by a few disreputable saloon keepers and their equally unsavory patrons.

The petition, however, contains the names of a large number of reputable and influential German citizens and they are very much incensed at the mayor's remarks about them and promise to make it very warm for him.

Dr. H. S. Smith, who is assisting to circulate the petition was seen by a Bee this morning and gave a few spicy facts that do not look well for Mr. Emmick.

"I see," said Dr. Smith, "that Mayor Emmick states that the names on that petition are mostly of democratic saloon keepers and disreputable republicans. There are now about 800 names on the paper and of these only five are saloon keepers and there is not a democrat on the list. The men who have protested against Emmick's appointment as oil inspector are all substantial and respectable German republicans who are opposed to him.

"His charge that they are all disreputable characters is a direct insult not only to those on the petition, but to all Germans in the city. Mayor Emmick has tried to fool them long enough and they are now determined to stop him.

"Besides this, I should like to know on what grounds he bases his charge that they are disreputable. He has not seen the petition and knows nothing more about it except what he may have heard.

"In an interview published in the German Express of Monday, the mayor says that I am fighting him because he would not promise to appoint me deputy oil inspector of this district. As to this I can say that a few days after the election last fall Mr. Emmick signed a petition indorsing me for the deputy oil inspectorship. I have not seen or talked with him about the oil inspectorship from that day to this, but I understand that he has promised it to a dozen or more.

"He also speaks of my 'chasing after him,' but I can prove that he has been following after me instead.

On last Saturday when he heard of this protest he went to my house in a sleigh, with two horses and a driver, and inquired for me. My wife told him that I was out, and he left this card with her."

Dr. Smith then handed a Bee one of Mr. Emmick's personal cards, on the back of which was written in the mayor's hand:

"Meet me at my office at 7:30 this evening. V. J. EMMICK.

"Don't fail."

"I did not go to see him but that evening attended the installation of officers of Guttenberg Tribe of Red Men at Wuerfel's hall on Summit street. About 4:45 Emmick was at my house again, and my wife told him where I was. A half hour later at the door of the hall there was a call for me. I inquired who wanted to see me and was told that Mayor Emmick was waiting for me outside. He left word for me to call at his office at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, but I did not go and have not seen him since.

"This is the truth of the matter and the German republicans have no more use for him."

SUTPHEN AND SNOOK.

Their Case Now Before the Ohio Senate.

Democrats Not Allowed a Proper Hearing.

Evidence Will Not Cut Much of a Figure with This Body—General Legislative Proceedings.

Columbus, Jan. 27.—(Special)—It has been evident from the beginning of the present legislature that everything possible would be used to further the interests of the republican party, regardless of justice and the rights of the people.

The history of the party in the past has been such that this was expected, but it was never supposed that it would drag the judiciary of the state in the mud to satisfy their partisanship.

However, this will be done, as was evidenced by the procedure in the senate yesterday afternoon in the matter of contest of Snook against Sutphen for the common pleas judgeship of the district composed of Williams, Paulding and Defiance counties.

After the rules of procedure were adopted, Mr. Lampson moved to limit the time for hearing the matter of contest to two hours.

In spite of the protest of the minority of the senate that this would result in injustice to the contestee, this motion was agreed to by a strict party vote.

C. A. Seiders, of Paulding, presented the case for the contestor. He stated that according to the returns the contestee had a majority of eight votes, but claimed that it had been ascertained that enough tickets marked by the cross opposite Gov. Campbell's name had been counted for the contestee, which should not have been, to give the contestee a majority. Hon. C. A. Bowersox presented the case on behalf of the contestee. He admitted that the contestee had a majority of votes as shown by the returns, and that there had been some irregular votes cast. But he maintained that the evidence would show that there were as many or more irregular votes cast for the contestor than there was for the contestee, and that he was the lawfully elected judge.

After the statements by the attorneys the further consideration of the contest was postponed till 3 o'clock to-day, when the evidence will be heard and arguments made by the attorneys.

Republicans Show Their Teeth.

Yesterday afternoon the republican senators showed their vindictiveness in refusing to confirm the appointment of D. Milliken, of Butler, to be a trustee of the Miami university, because he had been appointed by Gov. Campbell. The plea made by several senators that he was a good republican did not save him.

Bills Passed the House.

The following bills passed the house yesterday afternoon:

Mr. Van Cleaf—Appropriating $12,700.80 to a deficiency in the fund set aside for publishing the constitutional amendments.

Mr. Griffin—Regulating the admission of soldiers and sailors to the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Sandusky and providing for the punishment of those misrepresenting themselves as veterans, and also of those who sell or purchase the uniforms prescribed for the inmates of that institution.

Mr. Farrell—Making it obligatory to advance out of their order cases in the supreme court to recover damages for personal injuries.

Railroad Switching Bill.

Representative Strehli, of Hamilton, county, has introduced a bill which amends section 3341 of the revised statutes, and provides when two tracks of two companies are connected, either company shall, when required, transport over its road to its destination thereon any freight offered on the cars in which it is offered, at its local rate per mile as set forth in the company's freight tariff for the distance most nearly corresponding with or without freight, without necessary delay and any company owning a track or tracks lying contiguous to coal mines, stone quarries, manufacturing establishments, elevators, warehouses, navigable waters or such tracks, and within the proper terminal limits of or about any city or village, shall be entitled to receive from the company whose cars are so switched, loaded or unloaded at the place named, no more than $1 per car for switching over half mile or less on such tracks, and for all distances over one-half mile and not exceeding two and one-half miles such charge shall exceed $1.50 per car; between two and one-half miles and five miles $2 per car and more than five miles not more than $3 a car. When such service is on the roads of two or more companies, then the charges will be divided between the companies in proportion to the distances of each road provided however that each company shall be entitled to at least $1 for the service, regardless of distance. No charge shall be made for returning empty cars and charges for switching on private side tracks must be made at the specified rates.

It is stipulated that no railway company now in operation shall be required to furnish terminals and facilities at the rate specified to any similar company for any railroad to be built by it hereafter which shall not afford similar terminals and reciprocal facilities.

Yorktown Battle Ground.

Mr. Strehli offered a resolution which was adopted requesting our senators and members in congress to support and vote for a bill providing for the purchase of the Temple farm and Moore house at Yorktown, Va., by the government of the United States, the cost of said purchase to not exceed a reasonable price, and the state of Virginia exempt the same from taxation. This movement was started by the representatives and descendants of French officers who took part in the battle of Yorktown during the revolution, and by a recent visit of the above mentioned parties the subject of purchase was renewed. Engrossed copies will be sent to the senators and representatives in congress from this state.

After the Railroads.

Senator McMackin introduced a bill in the senate yesterday afternoon which will, if it becomes a law, make it easier for citizens to compel railroads to live up to the laws of the state or pay the penalties imposed on their violation. It amends sections 262 and 263 so that a citizen can bring civil actions against railroads for violations of laws without giving security for costs, provided they notify the commissioner of railroads and telegraphs of such violations and he fails to bring suit through the county prosecutor.

No Canada Thistles.

Representative Allen, of Greene county, yesterday afternoon introduced a bill which amends the revised statutes so that hereafter any farmer who sells any grass seed in which there may be Canada or other thistles, or allows the same to grow on his farm or the highway adjacent thereto, will be fined $20.

Notes.

Gov. McKinley appointed Evan A. Jones, of Athens, as member of board of trustees of Ohio university vice John Welsh, deceased.

Senator McMakin offered a resolution yesterday providing that the senate hereafter meet by standard time.

Gov. McKinley has appointed W. McD. Miller probate judge of Athens county, vice J. A. Manchester, resigned.

Gilliland, of Van Wert, introduced a bill yesterday afternoon authorizing county commissioners to issue $100,000 in bonds to macadamize roads of that county.

NEW YORK'S FAIR BILL.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The hearing on the bill appropriating $300,000 for New York's representation at the world's fair began before the senate finance committee at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A WARNING TO HILL.

A Packed Delegation Will Be Without Influence.

Astute David B. Hill May Have Made a Mistake in His Eagerness to Get to the Front.

New York, Jan. 27.—Commenting on the selection by the democratic state committee of Albany, February 22, as the date for the state convention the World says:

A delegation from New York chosen only after 24 days' notice three months earlier than in 1888 and four months in advance of that of 1884 can hardly command the respect at Chicago which would belong to a delegation chosen at the usual time, in the customary manner and after a full and free canvass of the democratic voters.

Senator Hill will have a united delegation from New York to the national convention.

Nevertheless we think Senator Hill, who seldom errs in matters political, has made a mistake.

The Times says: The Hill managers undoubtedly congratulate themselves, and with reason on their control of the party machinery. They have yet to learn that there is a wide difference between the power to nominate and the power to elect.

BREAD OR NO BREAD.

That May be the Question Soon in Toledo.

The Men of Bakers' Union No. 66 Refuse to Handle a Boycotted Yeast—The Bosses Will Continue Its Use.

A bread famine would be a new thing in Toledo, but it looks to-day just a little as though fresh bread would not be sent out from the bakeries to-morrow morning. Yeast is used to raise dough generally, but just now yeast is raising trouble, and that is why the men who bake our bread have gone out on strike.

The trouble seems to be this. The Toledo bakers are organized in an association. The journeymen bakers and apprentices are organized in a union. Heretofore there has been no serious trouble between bosses and men, but the men have asked the bosses not to use yeasts made by the Fleischman company, and it has not been used.

The Fleischman yeasts are under the boycott of the International Bakers' union, of the American Federation of Labor and of the Knights of Labor, and have been for a year or more.

Yesterday, it is claimed by the men, an agent of the Fleischmann firm induced the boss bakers to take the Vienna yeast. It is said he offered to give $500 for proof that the Vienna yeast is made by the Fleischmann company, and that he guaranteed he would bring men here to fill the places of the strikers if the union men went out.

As soon as it was known the boycotted brand of yeast was to be used the men did go out, and called a meeting, at which they appointed a committee to wait on the bosses and ask them to use any brand of yeast except a boycotted one, which union men could not handle. The bosses refused to receive the committee, and told them the men had gone out and now could stay out.

The union now issues the following:

Declaration.

The Bakers' union, No. 66, Toledo, O., deem it a duty to publish the following resolutions, which have been passed unanimously, and we appeal to the good and sober judgment of our citizens:

1. Only one week ago we arrived at a perfect, and as we had reason to think, an honest understanding with the proprietors of the Toledo bakeries that none of the boycotted Fleischman yeast, nor any of his spurious brands, be it Eureka, Vienna or others which they control, should be used here; but instead they agreed to use the Fermentum or any other good yeast. This principle was acknowledged.

2. Now, in spite of all these professions of good faith, an effort was made yesterday to introduce the Vienna yeast, which is known to be controlled by the Fleischman company. To this end a petition has been circulated, besides a personal effort by an agent to force this spurious yeast on us. It is apparent that we are actually forced into this position of defiance and self-defense.

3. We confidently trust to the impartial judgment of our fellow citizens, and leave it to them to judge in this forced controversy where the right may be. But this much we assert now and at all times, that whenever our rights and principles are endangered we shall never shrink from doing our duty fully and fearlessly.

Resolved to publish these declarations in the Bee and Toledo Express.

The Bakers' Union, No. 66,
Toledo, O.

The Bosses Meet.

The bosses are holding a meeting at the Manmee Valley Baking company's place of business this afternoon.

Messrs. Tait and Meinert Talk.

At Tait's it was said that the bakers desired them to use a yeast known as Fermentum. "We desire," they said, "to use other yeast at times. We make most of our own yeast but still there are occasions when we desire to use a small quantity of the yeast which is being boycotted. We don't think the men should dictate to us in such trivial matters. The fact is, our men did not want to quit work but had to obey the union."

At Meinert's a Bee was informed that the bosses were satisfied with the men and the men with the bosses. The only trouble was that the Bakers' union had declared a boycott against Fleischman's yeast. Some of the bakers were using Vienna yeast, in the manufacture of which, it is said, the Fleischmans have an interest.

BIRTHDAY OF THE POSTAGE STAMP.

The postage stamp will celebrate its fifty-second anniversary May 6 of next year. Its invention is due to a printer, James Chalmers, of Dundee, Scotland, who died in 1852. England 52 years ago introduced the new system of preparing letter postage, and, according to a decree of December 21, 1839, issued the first stamps, which were to be put before the public May 6 of the following year, as noted above. A year later they were introduced into the United States.—New York Journal.

FOR THE TOILET

There is no more useful or elegant article than Ayer's Hair Vigor—the most popular and economical hair-dressing in the market. It causes the hair to grow abundantly and retain the beauty and texture of youth; prevents baldness, heals troublesome humors of the scalp and keeps it clean, cool, and healthy. Both ladies and gentlemen everywhere prefer Ayer's Hair Vigor to any other dressing for the hair. Mrs. Lydia O. Moody, E. Pittston, Me., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time, and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and falling hair, so that I was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor, my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor to any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair."

At the head of all blood-purifiers is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. But it's different from all of them. Whatever is claimed for this, it's guaranteed to do. The money is refunded in every case where it fails to benefit or cure. It's because it is different that it can be sold so. All diseases originating from a torpid liver or impure blood yield to it. It cleanses and purifies the system, freeing it from all manner of blood-poisons, no matter from what cause they have arisen. For Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Scrofula, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, or any blood-taint or disorder, it is an unequaled remedy. Nothing else can take its place.

For military service the Germans employ electric lighting wagons, which contain everything that can possibly be wanted for lighting up any such military engineering operations as bridge building, throwing up earthworks at night, etc. The wagon weighs three and a half tons, and can easily be drawn by horses.

A comptometer, the new machine for counting, has been received and set at work in the pension department at Washington. It was patented in 1888 and is manufactured by a Chicago firm. The instrument looks like a mahogany box 8 by 12 inches wide and four or five deep. A keyboard occupies the upper side, and by tapping the keys the total appears in an indicator below.

Thus far electricity has not been found economical as a means of lighting railroad cars in this country, but one of the German express trains, running between Berlin and Frankfort-on-the Main is to be fitted with electric lights, supplied by storage batteries of special construction. There will be four 8-candle power lamps in each compartment and one 5-candle power lamp for each toilet room. There will be two storage batteries, each weighing 600 pounds, placed underneath the car floor in such manner as to permit their easy removal for re-charging.

Look at the Pleiades with the unaided eye and you may see six or seven or a dozen stars; look at it through a three-inch telescope and you may perhaps see 300. Study it through a telescope for three years, as Mr. Wolff has done, and map the stars and their places, and you may record 600 to 700 stars on a strange background of nebulous light. Expose a sensitive plate for an hour, and more than twice that number are revealed. Lengthen the exposure to four hours and you have a picture of 2,326 stars, with a different and more extensive background of nebulosity.

In 12 months Parisians have eaten more than 21,000 horses, 229 donkeys and 40 mules. A "superior horse steak" costs 20 cents a pound. A horse dinner was recently held in London, at which the editor of the St. James Gazette was probably present, as that gentleman is strongly advocating the adoption of hippophagy. At the dinner in question the piece de resistance was a fine animal, aged 18 years and 13 hands high. There was some difficulty in finding a butcher to kill the beast in a proper manner, and still greater difficulty in finding a cook. But when these obstacles had been surmounted and the dinner eaten, the verdict was unanimously in favor of horse meat in preference to beef.

That there have been warm winters in the middle and New England states in the past is well known, says a writer in the Philadelphia Press. One of the old captains on Lake Champlain points out that the winters of 1827-28 was very much like the present weather, and old diaries and almanacs refer occasionally to mild winters, but not to such a series as has been our fortune in these end-of-the-century days. With the grip raging and the death rates increasing, many will sigh for the good, old-fashioned winters, if there even were such in this latitude—the winters of the novels, short stories and nursery rhymes; the winters of white Christmas, sharp weather and good health. As the weather prophets say, for what is to be meted out this year wait and see.

Dr. Albert Shaw, the American editor of the Review of Reviews, who has just returned from England, says that he was impressed more than by anything else by the tremendous strides that were being made in that country by socialism. The two great political parties seemed to be vying with each other in seeing which would offer the most to that wing. This fact was sharply reflected in the speeches at the Birmingham and Newmarket conventions, and by the various conferences held since. Neither party would seem, however, to have any real interest in the measures which many of the workingmen, and especially the friends of Hodge, are urging. But the great contest that is to come between them serves their purposes to catch this vote, if possible, as in many cases it carries with it the balance of power. But when the new house of commons comes in, cabby and Hodge are pretty likely to be forgotten.

In no other art, perhaps, has so little progress been made during the past four centuries as in that of type-setting since the days of Gutenberg, says a writer in the Engineering Magazine. In all other work connected with printing there has been great advancement, the cylinder-press and stereotyping, for example, having revolutionized their respective branches of the art. Not until recently, however, have any attempts of note been made to avoid the tedious work of picking up each separate type from a chaotic heap in its alloted apartment in the "case," carefully turning it right end up and right side foremost and placing it in line in the "composing-stick." It may seem surprising that this work, so important in its results, should have remained in a crude stage throughout the period of the world's history marked by the greatest achievements of inventive genius. It is a hard problem to solve to be sure, with an exacting set of conditions to meet—delicate operations to be performed quickly, automatic adjustments to be made and a changing of vocation of an army of workers trained in the "old way." But is it too much for the indomitable will, pluck and everlasting energy of our trained inventors? They claim that it is not; that they have overcome other tasks equally difficult, and that they are now in a position to promise positively all that the printer asks in this line. It is significant, to say the least, that within a few weeks a contest between four type-setting machines, continuing through six days, under the most exacting requirements, has been held in Chicago under the auspices of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, and that the manufacturers of these machines have since received numerous orders from newspapers offices. The Bee, as its readers know, is now "set" by machine composition, the process of which was fully described in our Christmas number. It works to the satisfaction of the patrons and the publishers of the paper, and nothing would induce our type-setters to go back to the hard process of picking up the single type.

'TWILL HELP TOLEDO.

The Local Committee of Passenger Men.

James M. Hall Elected President and John E. Gunckel Secretary—A Word About the Organization.

The Toledo Passenger committee held its annual meeting at the Boody house yesterday afternoon. The committee has done much during the past year to make low rates locally and bring societies and meetings to Toledo. It has controlled matters that the Central Traffic association could not have well handled, at least not with the expediency that the local committee has made possible. Then, too, there are lines in the Toledo committee that are not in the Central Traffic association. The roads represented yesterday were the Wabash; Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton; Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo; Pennsylvania company; Toledo & Ohio Central; Lake Shore & Michigan Southern; Michigan Central and Wheeling & Lake Erie. The Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City; Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan and the C. J. & M. were not represented. General Passenger Agent James M. Hall of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad was re-elected chairman, and John E. Gunckel district passenger agent of the Lake Shore, was elected secretary to succeed Moulton Houk.

Mr. Gunckel's election is gratifying to his numerous friends in railroad circles. The fact that he is a local agent and has been elected to office in an organization of general agents is quite an honor. That Mr. Gunckel is well able to meet the requirements of the office all railroad men are confident. The committee intends doing much for Toledo the coming season. Everything will be done in the way of inducing large bodies to meet here, and Toledo business men and the roads centering here will profit accordingly.

The committee discussed the matter of publishing a Toledo rate sheet, also the transferring of passengers to the different stations.

SCOTTISH RITE.

The Twenty-First Reunion Being Held in Toledo,

To Continue To-Morrow and to Conclude with a Grand Banquet in the Evening.

The twenty-first reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons, of the Valley of Toledo, began at the Masonic temple, this city, to-day. Many members from different cities throughout northern Ohio, including Cleveland, Sandusky, Tiffin and Findlay are present.

The program to-day includes the conferring of the degrees from the fourth to the fourteenth. The class is a large-sized one and the ceremonies will occupy all of to-day and this evening.

The other grades, including the 18th, will be conferred to-morrow and the reunion will conclude with a banquet to-morrow evening at which the ladies will attend.

The music for the reunion is being furnished by a committee composed of Miss Bessie Doolittle, Mrs. F. R. Williams, Mr. W. A. Howell and Mr. F. R. Williams. Mr. Theo Ecker is the accompanist.

The bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite are instituted under the authority of the supreme council of sovereign grand inspectors general of the 33d and last degree for the northern Masonic jurisdiction of the United States of America, having its Grand East at Boston, Mass., of which Ill. Henry L. Palmer is now M. P. S. G. Commander, and which is in fraternal correspondence with a supreme council of the 33d and last degree in nearly every civilized nation.

The time, detail, expense and paraphernalia required for presenting the elaborate ritual and ceremonial of these grades, in a proper manner, prevent frequent reunions for work, and for that reason the grades are usually conferred upon classes.

An applicant for these grades must be an affiliated Master Mason, and Knight Templar, recommended by two members of this Rite. The grades will be conferred under the direction of Ill. Bro. Enoch Terry Carsen, 33°, deputy of the supreme council for the Orient of Ohio.

M'DONALD'S SLAYER.

Close of the Case Against Jerry Coakley.

Evidence Introduced on His Plea of Guilty to Manslaughter—Coakley Makes a Statement.

As stated in the Bee yesterday Jerry Coakley pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter for the killing of Harvey McDonald. Judge Lemmon, however, desired to hear the evidence in the case and the witnesses were put on the stand.

The hearing occupied all of yesterday afternoon and this morning and a large number of witnesses were examined. The testimony, however, was the same as that before the coroner and no new facts were developed.

The case concluded this morning with a long statement by Coakley himself. He told of the trouble in the Brunswick saloon, and of the fight outside. He said that he and McDonald engaged in a scuffle on the corner when some of his companions called to him to look out, that McDonald had a knife. Then Coakley said he drew his own knife and had it in his hand during the fight. He claimed that he did not know whether he cut McDonald or not, but that he knocked him down with his fist. After the fight he put the knife in his pocket and later in the night gave it to Crowley.

He became confused in his statements several times and some of his story was rather damaging.

SETH MARKEL KILLED.

A Toledo Traveling Man Falls Under a Train at Ashland.

Seth Markel, who for the past year has been in the employ of Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, wholesale druggists, of this city, as traveling salesman, met with his death at Ashland, Monday. While attempting to board a train at Ashland, O., he was thrown under the wheels and killed instantly. He was about 38 years of age, an excellent gentleman, and a great favorite with all who knew him. His death coming so sudden will be a sad blow to his numerous friends.

IN LABOR CIRCLES.

Blacksmith's Union Elects Officers—Firemen May Organize.

At the regular meeting of the Blacksmiths' union in Rensche's hall the following officers were elected: President, A. S. Carpenter; vice president, F. Dress; recording secretary, J. W. Chorus; financial secretary, J. Winesauskey; treasurer, J. Kreeger. The delegates to the Central Labor union are J. Bolton, G. Carter, F. Dress, A. Miller, S. Thompson, A. F. Seamour. The union has decided to consolidate with the Blacksmiths' Helpers' union, their interests being the same.

There is quite a little talk in the city among the firemen of stationary engines of organizing in a union. They reason that a proficient fireman is quite as necessary as a skilled engineer, and that life and property are in as much danger from an ignorant fireman as from an ignorant engineer. It is claimed some of the firms in the city doing largest business change their firemen weekly if not oftener, and that the reason for the change is that the wages paid do not satisfy the men, who take the places only until they can do better. If the firemen organize, as now seems likely, they will demand $45 a month.

The metal polishers who have been in convention in the city, have finished their labors, and are taking in the city to-day.

The reception and dance which Joan of Arc assembly gives its friends in their new quarters, Clark's hall, on Friday evening next, will be well attended. The best of good times is assured.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW.

There will be a musical service at Trinity church this evening at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Remarks will be made by Rev. Lindsay Parker, of Brooklyn, and Mr. Aiken, of Detroit, both prominent brotherhood workers. Rev. J. W. Sykes and Hon. D. E. Thomas will also speak. All young men are cordially invited to be present.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

A little son of Lawyer L. C. Beard was badly bitten in the wrist and arm this morning by a vicious dog at the corner of Seventeenth and Washington streets. It seems the two children had a dog hitched to a sled when another dog came along and attacked the one they were playing with. In trying to separate them the little fellow was bitten by the strange animal.

MODJESKA'S ESCAPE.

Toledo people came near missing the performance of Madame Modjeska at the opera house to-night. She was to have played in Columbus Monday and Tuesday but did not go there Monday night. The next morning the opera house was burned to the ground, but fortunately none of her effects had yet been placed in the building. If they had, all would have been lost and her manager informed a Bee that it would have been necessary to have canceled the Toledo engagement.

TOLEDO HARMONIC SOCIETY.

The Toledo Harmonic society proposes to give a concert, at Wheeler's opera house, about the middle of February. The society contains about 100 select voices and is without doubt the best chorus ever brought together in Toledo, numbers considered. Solo artists of note will be engaged if the concert is given. The officers of the society are as follows: President, Dr. W. W. Williams; vice-president, W. H. Carrier; secretary and treasurer, Geo. Colton; musical director, Amos Whiting; pianist, Miss Carrie L. Whiting.

ORGAN RECITAL.

A complimentary organ recital will be given at the First Congregational church Wednesday evening, February 3, by Prof. Geo. E. Whiting, assisted by local talent. The following program will be carried out:

Prelude and Fugue, C minor, Op. 65, Mendelssohn.
Religious Melody and Variations.
Finale, from the Sonata in A, G. E. Whiting.
Vocal, Salve Regina, Dana, Miss Elizabeth S. Doolittle.
Organ Symphony No. 5 (new), Widor, Allegro, Adagio, Toccata.
Vocal, Fair Rohtrant, Spin Spin, Whiting Male Quartet.
Selection, Flying Dutchman, Wagner, introduction (4th act), Senta's ballad, Sailor's chorus.
Vocal, to be announced.
Overture, William Tell, Rossini.

REPUBLICAN WARD CLUBS

Last evening the republican ward clubs were to have selected delegates to the state convention of republican clubs, which occurs next month, but for some reason or other the calls were not generally responded to. The meetings that were held resulted as follows:

Second ward—Frank Tanner, J. C. Bonner, Ed Unbehaun, S. W. Bolles, Herman Middaugh.

Fifth ward—James Southard, Charles H. Schroeder, Louis Nunn, Elmer Engelhardt, George W. Humphrey; alternates, Joseph Neher, George Fey, John Leowiski, O. S. Harding, Robert Ramsey.

Sixth ward—W. A. Tucker, H. R. Mensing, W. T. Ryan, W. S. Brown and S. W. Beckwith.

Seventh ward—W. J. Albrecht, Carl Flickinger, C. P. Griffin, Fred Wurtz and W. V. McMaken.

Ninth ward—Charles Prue, Herman Baumbach, Charles Hall and William Kirkby.

IS CASHIER HILL ALIVE?

Sensational Rumors Regarding His Disappearance.

A Wax Figure Said to Have Been Placed in His Coffin—Insurance Companies Investigating.

New Brunswick, N. J., Jan. 27.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Jamesburg bank, whose cashier, T. Wilton Hill, has been declared an embezzler for a large amount by Bank Examiner Stone, broke up in the greatest disorder upon receipt of information, alleged to be reliable, that Hill is not dead and that a wax figure was placed in the coffin which was believed to contain his body.

Some credence was placed in the story when the fact was recalled that no one but Hill's immediate family were present at the interment. A local physician had been called in when Hill was stricken with grip and no one was admitted to the sick chamber. When Hill's death was announced but little time elapsed before the body was laid in the grave.

The rumor that Hill is still alive has been intensified by the report that he has been seen within the past few days on Fourteenth street, New York, in company with a woman with whom he has been closely connected.

As Hill's life was insured for $20,000 a few days before he was said to have died, the company's agent in this city was preparing to pay the claim. Now he has announced that this will not be done until satisfactory proof of the death is given. The result of the allegations is that it has been decided to open the grave and ascertain whether it contains his body or a dummy. It is expected that this will be done to-day.

The local lodge of the Royal Arcanum is doubly interested in this, as they allege that Hill committed suicide. If the coffin really holds Hill's body they may demand that an investigation be made to ascertain if he killed himself. Bank Examiner Stone concluded his investigation into Hill's accounts yesterday. He found that Hill had stolen $50,000 from the Jamesburg bank. The stockholders are to be held liable for $15,000 over the amount realized from Hill's available assets. A vote taken by the stockholders yesterday on the question of the bank's continuance resulted in a tie. It is not believed here that this effort on their part to save themselves will succeed, as the fact has come to light that the bank officers had neglected to place Hill under bonds last year.

THE HILL BOOM STARTED.

Grand Reception Tendered to Him Last Night.

Two Thousand Democrats Shake Him by the Hand and Cheer Him for the Enemies He Has Made.

New York, Jan. 27.—Two thousand democrats grasped the hand of David Bennett Hill last night. The occasion was a reception tendered him by the Manhattan club, and democrats came from all over the state and even came from other states.

For over an hour Senator Hill stood in the main drawing-room smiling, bowing, and saying thanks. Then with the president of the club he led the way to the dining hall.

When Senator Hill arose to speak it was fully two minutes before he could proceed, so continuous was the applause. He referred to the democratic victories in New York the past four years, and in speaking of his share in them, remarked: "I simply did what I felt to be my duty to my state and to my party."

Continuing, he said: "We have stormed and carried the citadel of republicanism in this state, and this year we will storm and carry the republicanism of the country. Especially have we democrats of New York occasion to rejoice. We have carried the legislature, we will soon have a new congressional appointment, to be followed by a new state apportionment, and I hope soon to sit in the United States senate with a democratic colleague."

RAW AS BEEF-STEAK

Baby's Fearful Suffering from Skin Disease Covering Entire Body Cured by Cuticura.

My baby was taken very sick when he was three months old, and in a few days began breaking out. We employed both of the home doctors, and they could do nothing for him. Then we went for the best doctor in Eaton Rapids, Mich., and he doctored him for two weeks, and he got worse all the time; and then I took him to Jackson, to a doctor who attends especially to skin diseases and then he got worse than ever. Then I told my husband we had better try the CUTICURA REMEDIES any way; did not have any idea they would do any good, but in less than two months from the time we began giving them to him he was entirely well and not a spot on him. His hair began growing right off, and we thought he would always be baldheaded. There was not a spot on his whole body, face and head, only his nose and eyes but what was as raw as beef-steak. So poor there was not anything but bones, and so weak he could raise neither hand nor head.

TOLEDO, OHIO, JANUARY 27, 1892.

Old Glory shall float forever.

When the interests of country are involved the interests of party become a back number.

Of course everybody knows that the next President of the United States will be nominated in Chicago.

Quay is admonished to go a little slow, as there is danger that his train of vindication "may develop a hot box."

Peace having flapped her wings Secretary Blaine can brush up his Pan-American scheme and send a chapter down to Chile.

The more the English press criticises adversely our present treatment of Chile the more confident we shall be that our policy is right and proper.

It is suggested that if all the colonels in the United States should go to the war with Chile, there wouldn't be under officers and privates enough to complete the outfit.

If the war be really ended the politicians have permission to resume their cudgels. In republican circles it is still Blaine vs. Harrison, while on our side it is a free for all.

The United States government is buying coal from England, looking towards the possibility of a brush with Chile. What's the matter with the tariff-protected home product?

No one doubts that the protest of Senator Voorhees against the confirmation of Judge Woods, will rise above partisanship and be an appeal that the judicial bench of the country may be kept free from political taint.

Ohio wool that brought thirty-four cents in January, 1891, brought only thirty cents in December, 1891. Will the class in political economy that has been taught by Gov. McKinley and his assistants, arise and explain?

The king of Portugal, in demanding that there be retrenchment in the expenses of his kingdom, proposes to have his own income cut down first. He has exhibited wisdom far exceeding that of Solomon, and leaves the average office-holder in a free republic far behind him as a financier.

Some of our exchanges dwell upon "the Circassian strain" which the new khedive of Egypt receives through his mother as likely to be a force for good in young Abbas' rule. The ruling force in Egypt will be English, just the same. The bonds held by Britons in far off London will decide what shall be done in Egypt for many a year to come.

Senator Teller of Colorado has introduced a bill for the admission of Utah as a state. With a live and progressive population of over 200,000 souls, and a desire for the dignity and benefits of citizenship, why should not the request be granted? Senator Teller is fully persuaded that polygamy is dead in the territory, but he would hedge against a possibility of resurrection by the character of the bill of admission. In reality, there is nothing now standing between Utah and statehood but her democratic proclivities.

The Chicago Herald is very severe on Secretary Butterworth of the World's Fair directory, who has announced that he is "tired" of that position, and would resign if he had some other soft snap, or could "by some streak of luck" get back into congress. The Herald says:

It is not the duty of the directors to provide a comfortable berth for Mr. Butterworth, pending the arrival of "a streak of luck" in his fortunes, but it is their imperative duty to fill the office of secretary of the board with a capable and efficient man.

"That tired feeling" will be the death of Mr. Butterworth so far as public or political position is concerned. It was probably because it dominated him that he voted for the McKinley bill in the last congress, after denouncing it on the floor of the house.

The message of the President on the Chilean affair serves a double purpose—convinces Chile that the United States means business and is notice to all foreign nations to respect this country, its citizens and its flag. With few scattered exceptions the message was received by our own people as the expression of patriotic determination to maintain American rights the world over. The message compelled a prompt response and happily war will be avoided. That much is worth very much, for nobody desires war if it can be avoided. The Chilean episode has been of further value in this: the remarkable concentration of the military and naval arms of the government the past few weeks, together with the display of the immense resources of this country will not fail to impress other nations with the invincible strength of the United States. Without a large standing army, we have millions of men ready to fight on a day's notice. Without great arsenals, the country is full of war materials, and within a short time the country would be able to display its power at home and abroad. Yankee patriotism, resources and valor are equal to every emergency.

GEOGRAPHIC NOMENCLATURE.

The Bee has been asked to give the authority for the new spelling of Chile, Haiti, and some other geographic names. By an executive order dated September 4, 1890, President Harrison constituted a "Board of Geographic Names." Its purpose is to secure uniform usage in regard to geographic nomenclature and orthography throughout the executive departments of the government, and particularly upon officially-issued maps and charts.

The members of the board hold positions in the various departments and bureaus, and serve upon the board without additional compensation, no expense being entailed upon the government by the creation of the board. The department officers are instructed to assist the board in carrying out its work.

From time to time this board, the official name of which is the "United States Board of Geographic Names," issues a bulletin giving its official decisions. It is in this way the spelling of Chile, Haiti, etc., has been fixed for all official uses of the words. It is therefore proper that this spelling should be generally adopted.

JOHN CHINAMAN MUST GO.

The bill presented by Representative Stump, of Maryland, chairman of the House committee on immigration, absolutely prohibts Chinese laborers from entering this country, for residence, and they must have passport to permit them to pass through, en route to any other country. The period specified is twenty years. If the law is demanded at all, it would seem better to amend this provision and make the limit only the time when there shall be a sentiment for its repeal. China is the same yesterday, to-day and forever, and twenty years is a brief lapse of time in this rapid country. Whatever the changed conditions, the Chinaman will be no more welcome than he is to-day. Skilled and unskilled labor are alike barred. The section which specifies how much wealth a Chinese resident in this country must be possessed of, to allow him to return to his own if he shall go abroad, has a bad un-American sound; indeed, the whole bill has, judged by the standards hitherto raised by the republic. Envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary with their families are the only exceptions. Just what is the need of envoys and ministers from a country with which we have, and desire to have, no dealings whatever, is a question. We must not be surprised if our missionaries in China receive harsh treatment at the hands of the natives. They cannot believe very sincerely in our desire to Christianize them. The preaching of brotherly love and the practice of race hatred is inharmonious, even to a "heathen Chinee." The spirit already prevailing among the people is shown by frequent occurrences. A commercial agent, traveling with his wife through China not long ago, was stopping for a few days in Canton. As the lady was being carried through the streets in a palanquin, and the carriers stood resting a moment, a Chinese girl, little more than a child, ran up and spat upon the Melican lady, to show her hatred, and was cheered by the on-lokers for the daring act.

It is but a little time ago, the peans of glorification were sounding over the country for the success of the Burlingame treaty. "The oldest country and the youngest in the world, have clasped hands." Have we made a mistake in the first place, and in the second place as well? In principle, avowed American principle, the sorting of immigrants should not depend at all upon race, color or previous condition of servitude. The Pacific coasters give no uncertain decision in the matter, and Congressman Stump has been there to investigate the question. In the light of our previous "asylum" proclamations, the problem for the future is the most vexing one in American politics.

Mr. Keeley of bi-chloride-of-gold fame is not to have the field to himself any longer. He has a competitor in a neighboring state, a Hoosier physician, Dr. Blackstone by name, having perfected a cure for drunkenness which he claims is superior to the bi-chloride treatment, although the Keely specific is one of the ingredients. Dr. Blackstone is level-headed in respect to location. He will locate his institute in Washington, near the Shoreham. An important officer in the treasury department is one of the stockholders in the projected concern, which will open its doors early next month. $100,000 having been already subscribed. With the men who feed the disease at one end of the avenue and the men who cure it at the other, what a good time a convivial fellow can have so long as his constitution holds out.

There is a breezy and prodigal use of adjectives observed in some of our western exchanges which seems to indicate that the journalistic courtesies observed in the effete east would be far from popular in the western section. The Fremont (Neb.) Flail furnishes a specimen of western journalism that is a gem in its way in the following: "A white-livered, craven-hearted, leather-lunged, dwarfed-soul, chicken-gizzard, pudden-brained, pigeon-toed, weasel-faced, buzzard-billed, blear-eyed, hawk-nosed, claw-fingered son of Belial suggested a day or two ago that he would rather have the Flail against him than for him. He thought different before this paper gave him a twist for his meanness."

"Westward the star." While cities of the east are debating the benefit of manual training schools and kindergarten attachments, Toledo, St. Louis and San Francisco have these in full blast and are prepared to show results. Edwin Arnold had larger and more appreciative audiences in the middle west than anywhere else in the country. To be honest, New York prefers Carmencita, and Ward McAllister society shows, and Boston's latest trumpeted achievement was the victory of Boston birds in a cocking main. It took a half column in the papers to tell all about the glory of it and give full description of the different rounds.

The Alexandria Gazette comes out for Senator Hill for president in this real Virginian style of eloquence: "Senator Hill has no handicap. His form is good, his pace is rare, his staying powers excellent for three-mile heats, as has been shown in gubernatorial races. He does not deem himself greater or better than his party, but is proud of his individual rank in the line."

Commenting upon late correspondence from abroad which promises that England and Russia are about to form an alliance against France, the Chicago Times says, "When the British lion and the Russian bear lie down together the fragments of those noble but belligerent beasts can be gathered up with a scoop-shovel."

The salary of President Jorge Montt of the Chilean republic is only $18,000 a year, not quite fifty dollars a day. No wonder he didn't feel very warlike, himself. President Harrison gets $137 a day, Queen Victoria, over $6,000 a day and the Czar of Russia is allowed $25,000 a day, half the amount of our president's salary for the year.

"The stars and stripes are the only flag that represents freedom and true manhood," so says John L. Sullivan. John knows all about freedom, at least. Almost a pity we missed the chance of sending him down to cuff the Chileans.

The Boston Globe thinks it will be the Farmers' Misalliance soon, if the rows in the body for which Simpson, Livingston, Macune, Peffer, et al., are trying to speak are not soon settled.

The New York World says "All roads lead to this city," and the Kansas City Star innocently inquires if the road to ruin is included.

Because of the epidemic of rear-end collisions, railroad men say it is now difficult to fill the last coach with passengers until the others are crowded.

The New York World kindly permits Mr. Cleveland to "remain a factor in the political situation."

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The handsomest man in congress is said to be Representative Dubarrow, of Chicago, who is a rich bachelor, 34 years of age.

Mr. Justice Harlan, of the United States supreme court, prizes his lost Angora cat enough to advertise its loss and to offer a reward for its return.

Both Senator Palmer and his wife, who have just taken up their residence in Washington, are enthusiastic pedestrians.

Mrs. Annie Louise Cary Raymond's latest gift to the Maine General Hospital is the complete fitting up of two rooms for the use of patients.

The Harrisburg (Pa.) Independent thinks that Hon. Robert T. Lincoln is the only probable dark horse for the republican nomination for president.

There is in the United States but one railway president who is a female. That is Mrs. Charles D. Haines, of Kinderhook, N. Y., the executive head of the Hamilton & Kingston railroad.

Dr. G. R. C. Todd, of Barnwell, S. C., is a brother-in-law of Abraham Lincoln. Dr. Todd was a distinguished surgeon of the confederate army and was for a long time with the Texas Rangers on the Rio Grande.

A great-granddaughter of George III is living in Chicago. She is a descendant of the first daughter of King George's third son by Hannah Lightfoot, the Quakeress, whom he married two years previous to his alliance with Princess Charlotte of Mecklenburg-Strelitz.

Senator Davis, of Minnesota, has a noteworthy collection of Napoleona, embracing 300 books and quantities of pictures. To the senator the "Little Corporal" is the greatest hero of history, and he reads every line he can find relating to him.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That Jerry Coakley acted wisely when he pleaded to manslaughter.

That the next move in the Ohio Yacht club imbroglio will be awaited with interest.

That the rest of the straight channel committee will hustle to Washington at once.

That the regulation redistricting bill put in an appearance in the legislature yesterday.

That the question among theater-goers now is, "Is Salvini to be or not to be?" this week.

That the noon-day talks to business men will begin to-morrow at Trinity Episcopal church.

That Mayor Emmick is sorely troubled over the insurrection among the German's against him.

That Street Commissioner Bower is thankful that the cold wave took the slush off his hands.

That Gen. Greene is looking into the Columbus natural gas business while at the capital city to-day.

That as a result of to-day's canvass of votes K. P. headquarters will remain in Toledo for another three years.

That Ed Wigton is capable of making a lively run for police clerk, if the democratic convention gives him a chance.

That the Polish fair out Lagrange street next week will be a mammoth fair, and big financial returns are expected.

That more suits for damages against railroads have been filed in Lucas county courts the past few months than has been the case for some time.

That Doc Smith is the moving spirit in the opposition to Mayor Emmick's appointment as oil inspectorship, because the Mayor will not agree to make the "doc" his deputy in Toledo.

That the gas trustees will have to be satisfied with $120,000 instead of $350,000, with probably an injunction and other pleasures of similar character to combat before such sum is secured.

That Toledo is showing her usual modesty in only having candidates for railroad commissioner, oil inspector, state librarian and labor commissioner, not to say anything of the stewardship of the asylum and other minor positions.

That a striking illustration of the interest shown by the children and their parents as well, in the free kindergarten at the mission was given by the appearance of one of the children this morning with a few sticks of wood in his arms, spared from his mother's scanty pile, that the class need not adjourn on account of the cold.

The Place for the Convention.

Some wild-eyed democratic enthusiast suggests one of the big buildings at Jackson park for the democratic convention. His zeal is commendable, but his discretion very faulty. The exposition buildings are built to hold many thousands, but with no attention to acoustic qualities. The huge audience might see, but only a baker's dozen could hear. The loudest bursts of eloquence and the gentle murmurs for Cleveland and Palmer, Hill and Boies, Gorman and Gray, Flower and a host of well-bred democratic dark horses must not be lost upon a single listener. The auditorium, if to be had on proper terms, answers the bill, and can accommodate at least 7,000 people. It is the place, and the only suitable one.—Chicago Times.

On Deck for '96.

The fact remains that Kansas City is still the central point of the country; that its hotel accommodations are surpassed only by Chicago, and that it made a wonderful start for a new and untried town. With a proper convention hall erected, with the natural extension of its hotel system and with a continuation of the public spirit that has been awakened and stimulated by the contest there are great possibilities for 1896.—Kansas City Star.

What Editors Can Live Through.

Here are two notable instances of the strength and endurance of editors: Mr. Watterson has survived the presidential boom of the New York Herald, and shortly before, Mr. Dana came out unscathed after the Herald tried to elect him senator.—Wheeling Register.

McKinley's Mistake.

Mr. McKinley will regret to hear of the closing of the numerous flint glass houses of Pittsburg in consequence of overproduction. He had supposed that he had given protection enough to everything in Pennsylvania to insure for it perpetual prosperity and a never-failing home market.—Courier-Journal.

THE MACCABEES

Entertain Their Visitors and Friends Royally.

Last evening the seven local tents of the Knights of Maccabees gave a reception and entertainment at Memorial hall on the occasion of a visit from the supreme officers. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The visitors were welcomed by Chas. Vortriede, State Commander Ed. L. Young, of Norwalk, spoke of the organization and its rapid growth. Ten years ago there were 700 members while to-day there are 65,000 members, Ohio alone having over 5,000 members.

Addresses were also delivered by Hon. D. P. Warkley and Maj. N. S. Boyton, of Port Huron, Mich. There was music by Leon's orchestra, solos by Geo. W. Leibius and Chas. O'Brien and recitations by Miss Stella Dorland and Mrs. Etta L. Chase. Dancing followed. Supper was served to 500 guests. It was a most enjoyable affair.

WILL INVESTIGATE.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 27.—A horrible discovery has been made at the northern insane hospital here.

For the past two days an unusual odor has been noticed coming from a flue. Supt. Rogers was notified and an investigation ordered. At the bottom of the flue in the cellar was found the body of B. F. Hutson, a patient from Elkhart county, who on Thursday last disappeared. An investigation as to the cause of his death is being made.

RUSSIAN POWERS.

London, Jan. 27.—Advices have been received from St. Petersburg that the powers of several governors of Russian provinces have been increased to the extent of allowing them to declare martial law.

This is to meet the dangerous machinations of the nihilists who are taking advantage of the sufferings of the peasants from the famine to incite them to revolt.

Topeka, Ks., Jan. 27.—Assistant Fire Marshal Ben McCarter, who was injured last night by the overturning of a hose reel, died at 8:30 this morning. Driver Nels Anderson is not expected to live through the day.

THEY ENTERTAINED FRIENDS.

Members of the Y. M. C. B. A. Enjoyed a Pleasant Evening.

Last evening the Young Men's Catholic Benevolent association entertained a large number of friends, the occasion being the installation of the new officers. Friendship hall, where the event took place, was crowded, and the affair was most enjoyable throughout. The address of welcome was delivered by John J. Murphy. He requested all young men not members of the Y. M. C. B. A. to join its ranks and share in its benefits, socially and otherwise.

Officers were installed as follows: P. H. Sugrue, president; W. C. Coyle, first vice president; Alexander Muheleisen, second vice-president; John W. Sullivan, recording and corresponding secretary; Will F. Sapp, financial secretary; R. M. Conlisk, treasurer; William Clougher, sergeant-at-arms; William Fleig, sentry; Edward Ryan, marshal; Edward Sawkins, captain; Henry Hornung, standard bearer. President Sugrue spoke briefly, thanking the members for the honors conferred upon himself and brother officers. Then followed vocal solos by Miss Anna Grady, Miss Nellie Brady, Miss Frances Weick, J. B. Poulin, J. E. McGinnis, John Burns; violin solo by F. Auletta; selection by the Uhl brothers and the Fachutar brothers. Rev. Father Burns spoke briefly regarding the Y. M. C. B. A. and like organizations. Everything passed off in a most pleasant manner.

After the music dancing and cards were enjoyed. The success of the affair was largely due to the excellent efforts and management of the following committee, who had charge of the arrangements: M. G. Givins, W. F. Sapp, Jas. Galloway, R. M. Conlisk, Jas. J. Whelan, J. E. McGinnis.

Friendship's hall has been leased by the association for five years and has been newly furnished and fitted up.

WORLD'S FAIR INQUIRY.

House Resolution for an Investigation of the Management.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The house committee on appropriations has agreed to report to the house a resolution calling for an inquiry by the appropriations committee of the house as to whether the requirements of the act of congress approved April 25, 1890, providing for the holding of the Columbian exposition at Chicago, whether all expenditures of whatever character for the exposition have been judiciously made, and generally into the management of the fair. Representative Sayers, of Texas, will report the resolution of the house. The full text of the resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That the committee on appropriations is hereby ordered to inquire and report to this house whether those obligated and undertaking, and now engaged to do so, have justly and properly complied with the requirements of the said act of congress, approved April 25, 1890, and whether all expenditures of whatever character for said exposition have been judiciously made, whether the number of employes and appointees to carry out and into effect the laws is excessive and their compensation reasonable or otherwise, and to ascertain and report the salary or compensation paid to each officer and employe, and from what states the several appointments have been made, and generally whether in the care and conduct of said exposition proper management has been had; that they obtain a full report of those in charge of the expenditure of money, of all such expenditures, together with copies of the monthly payrolls of all officers and appointees, and that the report of the committee based upon said inquiry may be made at any time to congress, but at the earliest day possible consistent with the necessities of the inquiries involved in this resolution; and that the expenses of the committee or of any subcommittee it may designate to prosecute these inquiries and examination shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the house, and the chairman of said committee or of such subcommittee, if one be designated, is authorized to draw for the same on the clerk of the house in sums not to exceed $500 at any one time.

OHIO SUPREME COURT.

Two Decisions of Interest to the People of Cleveland.

Columbus, Jan. 27.—The supreme court handed down two decisions of interest yesterday. The first is that of the State against the East Cleveland Street railroad company, asking for the declaration of forfeiture of charter on account of the change from horse-power to electricity. The supreme court finds that the lower court decided correctly in the matter and therefore the decision is affirmed.

The second case is that of the National Granite Bank, of Quincy, Mass., against A. W. Coates, of Cleveland, for $4,500 for a monument Mr. Coates had ordered from a firm which afterward transferred its claim to the bank, notwithstanding the order for the monument had been rescinded. The judgment of the lower court is upheld.

A peculiar case was begun in the supreme court this afternoon by ex-Attorney General Kohler, of Akron, on behalf of Arthur W. Carrier, a school teacher of Twinsburg township, Summit county, against the State Board of School Examiners.

The petition prays for an alternative writ of mandamus to compel the examiners to grant Mr. Carrier a certificate to teach the school in Twinsburg township, to do which he is under contract. The petition alleges that Mr. Carrier passed the examinations all right, but the examiners refused to grant the certificate on the ground that his moral character is not what the examiners think it should be.

Mr. Kohler states that the hitch is on account of Carrier's attack upon a school publication, in which one of the examiners is interested, and on account of it he has refused to give him a certificate.

THE CROWD FRIGHTENED

By the Appearance of Two Officers at the Helping Hand Mission.

A laughable panic was caused in the Helping Hand mission last evening by the appearance there of Detectives Daily and Gilroy. Services were being held at the time the officers entered and they quietly sat down to wait until the meeting was over.

The crowd at the mission always contains a large number of bums and rooks and these fellows soon discovered the presence of the officers and it made them very nervous. The instant the benediction was pronounced there was a grand rush for the doors but these were found to be locked and the crowd could not get out.

The officers then arrested James Collins, who is wanted for petit larceny and the others heaved a great sigh of relief.

GOLD AND SILVER PARITY.

Senate Resolution Providing for an International Bimetallic Agreement.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Senator Morrill, from the committee on finance, has reported the following substitute (prepared by Senator Aldrich and unanimously approved by the committee) to the joint resolution introduced by Senator Teller to provide for an international bimetallic agreement:

That the policy of the United States to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money and to maintain at all times a parity in the value of its coins of both metals is hereby reaffirmed, and the president is authorized to invite the governments of such countries as he may deem advisable to join the United States in a conference to be held at a time and place to be agreed upon, such conference to be called with a view of securing a permanence in the relative value of gold and silver at a common coinage ratio, to be mutually agreed upon through international agreement, providing for the enlarged monetary use of silver, and for giving to that metal equal mintage rights with gold (a permanence in the relative value of gold and silver) at a common coinage ratio to be mutually agreed upon. The president shall, by and with the advice of the senate, appoint three commissioners who shall attend such conference on behalf of the United States and shall report the doings thereof to the president, who shall transmit the same to congress. Said commissioners shall receive the sum of $5,000 each and their reasonable expenses, to be approved by the secretary of state, and the amount necessary to pay such compensation and expenses is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

THE BERING SEA QUESTION.

The Commissioners Will Soon Have a Conference.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The secretary of state has arranged with the British minister for a conference at Washington between the commissioners representing Great Britain and the United States who visited Alaska last summer for the purpose of obtaining definite information in regard to the seal fisheries.

These commissioners are: On the part of the United States, Professor T. C. Mendenhall and Professor C. Hart Merriam; on the part of Great Britain, Sir George Baden-Powell, of England, and Dr. Dawson, of Canada. The two last named gentlemen are now at Ottawa, but it is expected that they will arrive in Washington for the purpose indicated in a few days.

This conference is understood to be merely preliminary to the formal submission of the Bering Sea question to arbitration. The basis of arbitration and the personnel of the arbitrators have been practically settled, but no official announcement on the subject will be made for some time yet.

It is generally understood that Hon. E. J. Phelps, of Vermont, will be one of the arbitrators.

DEATH OF CHARLES M'LAIN.

He Was Well Known and Greatly Esteemed in This City.

Charles F. McLain, formerly of Toledo, died at his home in Grand Rapids, Mich., last evening. The announcement will be received with sorrow by his many friends in Toledo, this city having been his home for a number of years, and his friends here counted by the scores. His last engagement here was with Pliny Watson & Co., and to a Bee this morning a representative of the firm spoke in the highest terms of Mr. McLain as a man of integrity and ability, with whom the firm parted only because it seemed to his advantage to identify himself with a Grand Rapids house.

Mr. McLain was the first secretary of the Toledo Traveling Men's association, which office he retained until he left the city. Whole-souled and genial he was always a favorite with his associates, who will mourn sincerely that he is cut off in the prime of life. He was a brother of Miss Fannie McLain, teacher in the Warren school, who was summoned to his bedside yesterday. He came from Tiffin to Toledo, and it is probable his burial will be in Tiffin, as his father and mother are buried there.

MACHINE SHOPS BURNED.

Meriden, Mass., Jan. 27.—The machine shops of the Queen & Crescent road were destroyed by fire last night. By hard work on the part of the employes and the fire department the round house and offices were saved. Nearly 200 men will be thrown out of work until the shops are rebuilt. The fire is supposed to have been started by the careless handling of a torch by a workman. The loss is estimated at $75,000; fully insured.

DISCOVERED AT LAST.

What La Grippe Really is—Where It Originated—How It is Propagated and the Way by Which It Can be Avoided.

It has, at last, been discovered and definitely settled just what "La Grippe" is, and how it first started.

It is an infection, low fever, and it originated in Asia from the wet marshes around Bokhara. Thence it was taken to Russia by the traders who came from the crowded bazars of the Asiatic capital. From Europe it came to America, and here the germs are to-day and the fever raging.

Being a fever, it arises, as all fevers do, from a weakened and run down condition of the system, hence some people have it and others do not. Some have it severely and others mildly, but in every case it is due, as all fevers are, to a disordered and weakened kidney and liver. No man or woman whose kidneys are in perfect or strong condition ever had the grippe, even with the worst exposure, and no one ever suffered with it whose kidneys and liver were not out of order. In writing on this subject, which is one of the most important now before the people, the New York Herald gives, in a recent issue, some good advice. It says: "All classes should avoid crowded assemblages, avoid over-exertion, and see that their systems are toned up and built up."

This is common sense. But it is not always easy to do. One can easily say "Tone up the system, strengthen the kidneys and liver"—but how? There has never been but one standard remedy for strengthening and restoring these great organs, and that is Warner's Safe Cure. You know that, if you stop to think, if you refresh your memory and recall how many people you have heard speak favorably of it, who have perhaps told you what it has done for them. It goes directly to the seat of most physical trouble and all possible grippe. It strengthens, it renews, it fortifies these great organs, and thus when the germs of grippe come to the system, they are unable to find a lodgment, and are killed before they can propagate.

The foregoing facts are fully indorsed by the most eminent physicians, both abroad and in America. Dr. Gustav Webber, of the royal court of Germany; Dr. Hoesch, of Berlin; Dr. William Edward Robson, of the royal navy, England; Dr. Andrew Wilson, of the Royal Society of Edinburgh, and most broad-minded and liberal physicians in America, have unhesitatingly affirmed the same.

You who read this article are in danger of contracting the grippe, which may leave its painful and baneful effects upon your system unless you are in a strong, a healthy and vigorous condition to-day. If you feel languid, restless, irritable, despondent, if your appetite is uncertain, your rest broken; if you feel any signs of feverishness or chilliness, you need to take immediate steps against it. You need to fortify your kidneys and liver, and you can do so absolutely in but one way and that is by the aid of the great cure above named.

GOING OUT TO-MORROW.

The gods let slip that fiendish grip
Upon me last week Sunday—
No fiercer storm than racked my form
E'er swept the Bay of Fundy;
But, now, good-bye
To drugs, say I—
Good-bye to gnawing sorrow;
I'm up to-day,
And, whoop, hooray!
I'm going out to-morrow!

What aches and pain in bones and brain
I had, I need not mention;
It seems to me such pangs must be
Old Satan's own invention;
Albeit I
Was sure I'd die,
The doctor reassured me—
And true enough,
With his vile stuff
He ultimately cured me.

As there I lay in bed all day,
How fair outside looked to me!
A smile so mild old Nature smiled
It seemed to warm clean through me.
In chastened mood
The scene I viewed,
Inventing, sadly solus,
Fantastic rhymes
Between the times
I had to take a bolus.

Of quinine slugs and other drugs
I guess I took a million—
Such drugs as serve to set each nerve
To dancing a cotillion;
The doctors say
The only way
To rout the grip instanter
Is to pour in
All kind of sin—
Similibus curantur!

'Twas hard; and yet I'll soon forget
Those ills and cures distressing;
One's future lies 'neath gorgeous skies
When one is convalescing!
So now, good-bye
To drugs, say I—
Good-bye, thou phantom Sorrow!
I'm up to-day,
And, whoop, hooray!
I'm going out to-morrow.

DELIGHTFUL AUDIENCE

With Madame Helena Modjeska by a Bee.

The Queen of the Stage Talks of Her American Arden—The Wilburs—Dramatic Pointers.

Hath old customs made this life more sweet
Than that of painted pomp? Are not these woods
More free from peril than the envious court?

—As You Like It.

An audience with the queen, according to all tradition, should be an ordeal to put her truest subject in a state of trepidation.

But when the queen is Mary Stuart (divested of her regal trappings—Mme. Helena Modjeska, who appears at Wheeler's to-night) and her court (yclept the star's hotel room) is a chamber neither of horror nor dread, but a conjuring place for all the graces—then the loyal subject is emboldened not only to speak when spoken to, but to ask questions, as was the case with a Bee.

Perhaps it is about madame's ranch in the west. Whereupon the dainty, pretty and high-born lady in the picturesque heliotrope robe de chambre, who has exchanged the role of the unhappy regent for that of hostess, though she is still monarch of all she surveys, including clouds of magnificent gowns—and a count, will describe the American Arden.

Shakespeare's witching comedy furnishes the name. The location is not quite a score of miles from the Pacific coast, in the mountains midway between San Diego and Los Angeles.

"You must know," says madame, "that we came first to America on the spur of the moment. We were sitting one night in Poland talking about one thing and another, incidentally about America, and we said let us go and see it.

"We started almost immediately. For a time we lived in a little town on the California coast, and once when we made a journey to the mountains I saw a place so beautiful it seemed like paradise itself. I wanted it then, and always wanted it, and now it is ours. It is as you like it, so we call it Arden, and there is everything there Shakespeare put in his forest—oaks, palms, snakes, lions—"

Madame laughingly admits that Arden is more expensive than a theater and unlimited succession of special productions; but has not the head gardener that very day written of the beauty of the flowers now in all their glory? And are not the charms of nature, even for such time as they can be there to enjoy them, beyond all else to be prized?

There is a pet horse, by name Orlando, in Arden, some shy and graceful antelopes, a favorite cow that answers to the name of haydenish Audrey, and a new filly that if it ever breaks any record will do it, sans masquerading, under the name of Rosalind.

Perhaps the questioner is anxious to know which is madame's favorite character. She has none.

The one in rehearsal, like the mother's latest born, is the one that appeals most to the artistic heart.

"Of course," she says, "I like Shakespeare always, and am never tired of playing his characters; but French plays"—with a petite shrug of the dainty shoulders—"they grow tiresome, very. The lines generally supply no inspiration, the actor must find it all himself.

"I am interested in American plays, and want much to get a romantic drama by a native playwright who will lay the scene here.

"There is, to be sure, not much material in the big cities—not in the business part of the cities, but the West and South are full of romantic material."

This leads naturally to the new play, "The Tragic Mask," which was produced last fall for the first time. It is the work of Mr. E. C. Reynolds, of New York, who has depicted cosmopolitan life (including several Americans) abroad in a combination of quaint and original ideas, with dialogue that delights madame.

The career of la belle Americaine, who will wear, it need scarcely be said, some immensely fetching Paris gowns, among them a creation of yellow silk that is a mass of embroidery and pearls, is the channel to a comparison of American and European women.

"American women are in every way more independent," says madame.

Off the stage Mme. Modjeska is charmingly natural, as untheatrical in dress and manner as she is in thought and feeling. Once away from the footlights she puts acting behind her.

"I forget my parts, actually, when I am not playing; completely forget them, so that at the first rehearsal for the season I generally do not know a line even of the most familiar character, such as Rosalind.

"But by the next rehearsal I have read the part over, and it soon all comes back to me, as lovers of art unite with Orlando in hoping the fair Rosalind will continue to come back, Forever and a day."

Salvini Will Play Friday and Saturday.

The much-talked of engagement of Alexander Salvini at the Wheeler on Friday and Saturday nights, and over which there has been so much doubt, was settled last night by Manager Brady's guarantee of a surety to the company, if no advance in prices would be made. Mr. Brady made Mr. Cooley, the representative of the company, an offer which is embodied in the following telegram to Manager W. M. Wilkison:

Toledo, O., Jan. 27.

W. M. Wilkison, Manager Alexander Salvini, Burnett House, Cincinnati, O.:

Brady says if you will allow prices to remain as usual he will guarantee us twelve hundred dollars for the engagement. Answer quick. Constant call for seats. Sale ready to open.

A. W. COOLEY.

Late last night Mr. Cooley received the following telegram, which settles the differences and assures the appearance of the handsome young actor:

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 27.

A. W. Cooley, representative Salvini Company, Boody House, Toledo, O.

All right. If Brady guarantees twelve hundred, accept and play engagement at regular prices. Largest demand for advance seats known here this season.

W. M. WILKISON.

Mr. Cooley accepted the guarantee this morning and wired the company to play the Toledo engagement. The sale of seats will begin to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and the repertorie as announced be given. Friday night D'Ennery's romance Don Caesar de Bazan, and Saturday night Dumas' great story, The Three Guardsmen.

The Wilburs.

The Wilburs changed their bill at the People's last evening and presented Chassaigne's comic opera "Falka." The audience was very large and appreciative. "The Jolly Perfumer" will be produced this evening.

GREEN GOES FREE.

No Evidence That He Got the Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

Williamsburg, Pa., Jan. 27.—The hearing of Dela Green, late cashier of the Muncie National bank, charged with having appropriated the $15,800 which mysteriously disappeared from the vaults of the bank, took place here before United States Commissioner Bently.

Bank Examiner Dengler, President Bowman and Teller Bowman were examined but no evidence in addition to that already published was elicited. Upon conclusion of the testimony United States District Attorney Lyon asked that Mr. Green be held for trial, while counsel for the defense insisted on his discharge on the ground that a prima facie case had not been made out.

The commissioner took the latter view of the matter and discharged Mr. Green, stating that it had not been proven that the missing money had been in the bank's storing box during the past three years, nor that Mr. Green had abstracted it, or knew anything of its disappearance.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.

The nick of time to stop the course of bladder and kidney complaints is when the organs concerned exhibit a tendency to grow inactive. The healthful impulse toward activity that they receive from Hostetter's Stomach Bitters rescues them from impending danger, and averts such dangerous maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes. Sluggishness of the kidneys increases a liability to chronic rheumatism, gout and dropsy, and since the blood is filtered by these organs in its passage through them, the operation of the Bitters serves a doubly happy purpose. The medicine acts without exciting, like the fiery stimulants of commerce. Malarial, dyspeptic, constipated and nervous invalids are thoroughly relieved by it. Since the advent of that shocking malady, la grippe, it has been widely demonstrating its usefulness as a curative and preventive of it.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED,

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

INDIAN DAYS AND TROUBLES

An Account of the Siege of Fort Detroit.

Capture of Relief Boats and Massacre of the Crews—Reinforcements—Pontiac's Successful Ambuscade—Death of the Great Chief.

(By Dr H. Scott)

The attempt of Pontiac to capture Fort Detroit by strategy, and its failure, was in the Month of May, 1763. As was to have been expected, Pontiac at once began preparations for reducing the fort by seige. His defiant conduct upon gaining the outside of the palisades could have left no doubt in the minds of Maj. Gladwin and his staff as to the intentions of the defeated chief. He held the body of his forces near the fort to prevent either ingress or egress, while his runners and spies were sent off in every direction to rally the savage forces, and to bring in intelligence of the approach of supplies or reinforcements for Gladwin.

On the 10th day of the month he opened fire on the fort from all directions. He seems not to have had any intention of attempting the reduction by storm; but rather to have directed his attention to starving the garrison into surrender. He managed to post his men in covered positions within musket-range of the stockade, from which they kept up a pretty constant fire, which was promptly replied to from the block houses. There were several barns surrounding the fort, which served as cover for the Indians, and which proved a formidable annoyance to the garrison. It does not seem that the three small guns with which the ramparts were mounted had been sufficient to battle down these log structures; but at length it occurred to the besieged to make the attempt to fire them. For this purpose heavy spikes were fired red hot from the guns, which set fire to the structures, and this was continued until all of them were consumed, thus driving the enemy back to new positions less favorable.

The effect of the guns from the ramparts now served to keep the savages beyond shooting distance; but the garrison was not strong enough to send out a fighting force sufficient to meet the enemy so greatly outnumbering them—ten to one was the best estimate that could be made from all resources.

Not far from the fort was a ridge of sufficient elevation to overlook the pickets. Up this slope the Indians crept, until they could peer over into the inclosure; but they dared not raise any portion of their bodies into view. Several of them made the attempt to fire, but in doing so they were picked off by sharp-shooters at the loop-holes. They were therefore driven from this their last hope of making anything like a fight.

Still they kept their position as besiegers, expecting at last to bring the garrison to a surrender from starvation. Pontiac was confident that he held the English at his mercy. Notwithstanding he was at last induced to send five of his men into the fort under flag of truce to propose terms of capitulation. He asked that a commission be sent out to confer with him. This step on his part was supposed to have been brought about by the intervention of a Frenchman, as also the terms proposed by the chief.

The terms proposed by Pontiac were, that the English should lay down arms and leave all the goods and stores, as well as a large sum of silver and gold known to be in the fort; and also should surrender the two armed vessels lying at anchor in the river. In return, Pontiac proposed to escort the garrison in safety to Niagara.

Lieutenant McDugal and Major Campbell were appointed commissioners on the part of the garrison. Upon hearing the terms, Major Campbell replied that he was authorized to say that the commandant would never surrender the fort while there was one man left to stand by his side. The conference was ended, and the siege was pressed with renewed vigor in very possible way.

At the commencement of the siege the garrison had barely three weeks' supplies; and there seemed no probability that any supplies could reach them under the circumstances.

They were reduced to one pound of bread and two ounces of meat a day, for each man. Every possible effort to replenish the stores had been made, but with only very partial success; and actual starvation seemed imminent. In this state of affairs the siege went on. Every able-bodied man was required on the ramparts, day and night, in relief. A writer, in describing the siege, said: "We have not had our clothes off for three weeks."

A Flash of Joy and Then Gloom.

On the 30th day of May a sentinel on the lookout announced that a fleet of barges was approaching from below. This filled the fort with a thrill of joy; for there could be but one conclusion—it was supplies for the garrison at last, and at a time when it seemed impossible they could hold out many days longer. But alas! the whole garrison was suddenly filled with horror as, on a nearer approach of the boats, it was seen they were in the hands of savages.

At a point on the northern shore of Lake Erie, and on Canadian soil, there was a pleasant and safe harbor, called Point Pelee. Here the fleet had anchored for the night, consciously secure from molestation. Most of the men went ashore and built fires, and after enjoying a supper, lay down to sleep in a cave. The vigilant Pontiac had his spies watching the movements of the fleet, and while the men slept, a large body of savages left their ambush, and the cat-like tread in their moccasined feet stole upon the sleepers, firing at them, killing most of them, and taking the others prisoners.

Their next move was to take charge of the boats, upon each of which they placed four of their prisoners to navigate them under an armed guard of Indians. The dead were scalped and the scalps paraded on the tops of poles which were carried along the shore in full view of the fort, the savages shouting the war whoop, and otherwise taunting their prisoners, who knew full well that an awful death awaited them as soon as the boats should be landed, unless they should be providentially rescued. This was the condition of the fleet when first discovered by the sentinel at the fort.

Approaching the two anchored ships lying in front of the fort, but holding near the southern, or western shore, the Englishmen in one of the boats, prepfeing the risk of the musket balls to the fortune, perhaps by fire, boldly turned their prow towards the ships and screamed for help. So sudden and rapid was the movement, that the Indian guards, fearing the guns from the vessels jumped overboard and swam in the opposite direction, one of them pulled a white man over with him, and both were drowned. The other three were saved. The remainder of the boats, with the cargoes of provisions, were landed by the Indians beyond the reach of the guns of the ships, where the savages at once murdered and scalped the English prisoners, whose screams were plainly heard at the fort, where was no possible power to save them. It was subsequently learned that the Indians cooked and ate some of the men thus atrociously murder.

Relief at Last.

A few days subsequent to the terrible tragedies just narrated, three armed vessels arrived from Niagara, bringing ample supplies and 50 recruits; and subsequently 200 regulars were sent to the relief of Fort Detroit.

After this Pontiac made a feint of raising the siege and departing for other regions. In this movement it will be seen he was more than a match for the British. He sent the women and children forward with an armed escort, and put his men on the march, in the rear, taking away also his stores. The fort now having been reenforced, it was decided to send a fighting force to attack the Indians in the rear.

Two hundred picket men were detailed for the pursuit; but of these little more than one half returned; and of the number 40 were wounded; many of them mortally. Seventy were killed. Only one mile and a half from the fort was a bridge across a small stream, on all sides was a jungle of bushes and tall grass. The British soldiers were on quick time, determined not suffer the savages to escape so cheaply. When the body of the men were on the bridge, and clearly visible, the night being only moderately dark, more than a hundred muskets poured a deadly fire upon them. Many fell under this first shot. Those who did not fall turned and fled precipitately and with the utmost disorder. The Indians fired on the retreat with deadly effect, bringing down many and wounding others. The ambush was complete, and the consequences most disastrous. The proportions of the killed and wounded in this attack were without a parallel in history.

Soon after this Pontiac withdrew from the regions of Detroit and took up his abode at an obscure place in Illinois, from which he continued to keep the frontiers in terror from New Orleans to Pittsburg on account of rumors concerning his movements.

He was finally assassinated while delivering a speech in council. The assassin was an Indian by the name of Peoria, of the Peoria tribe, who had been sent to the council as a spy. He effected his purpose with a knife which he plunged into the heart of the chief. The assassin fled and escaped; but the entire tribe of the Peorias was subsequently exterminated by the allied friends of Pontiac.

Much has been said in history concerning the alliance of the French and Indians in the bloody wars of the frontier that was found to be true; but there were honorable exceptions. Many Frenchmen volunteered in the service of the English during the siege of Fort Detroit; and some of the most influential rendered important aid by their councils. And neither must we dismiss the memory of the renowned Pontiac before doing him justice. He was terrible in war, wise in council, and bloodthirsty in disposition. But he displayed some noble traits, of which we give a single instance. Major Campbell, previously alluded to as one of the commissioners sent out to confer with Pontiac during the siege of Detroit, was subsequently murdered by an Indian. Pontiac was so indignant that he exerted all his power to find and punish the assassin, but failed, we believe.

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS.

Salt Water Plays Havoc with the Sugars.

It Raises the Duty on It and at the Same Time Decreases the Value of the Merchandise.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The acting secretary of the treasury has written a letter to the collector of customs at Philadelphia, in which he says the department has received a communication from Mr. Claus Spreckels representing the hardships inflicted upon importers of raw sugars in cases where the merchandise has been exposed to the action of salt water, whereby the color has been so washed as to represent a fictitious grade, rendering the sugars liable to classification above No. 16, Dutch standard, and making them amenable to duty.

Mr. Spreckels complains that while the tariff provides for the free entry of raw sugars, not exceeding No. 16 Dutch standard, yet if the importer is so unfortunate as to have his merchandise bleached and the saccharine matter in it destroyed by contact with the salt water on the voyage of importation, then in such a case almost worthless portions of the cargo become dutiable, while the sound portion remains below No. 16 Dutch standard and is admitted free.

Mr. Spreckels further states: "It is a well known fact that salt water will almost immediately, upon its application, bleach and whiten sugar and at the same time it destroys in a great measure its merchantable value.

The department has investigated the correctness of the allegation and is convinced of its truth. It is ascertained that while the color grade of raw sugars is raised by the application of salt water, the saccharine strength is impaired and the actual value of the merchandise depreciated and that there is no practical difficulty in determining the fact of such damage.

The acting secretary says the tariff of October 1, 1890, on changing the dutiable standard of sugar from the polariscope test to the Dutch standard of color, did not abandon the object which was aimed at in the former process, namely, the ascertainment of saccharine strength.

Sugars are made dutiable when they exhibit the saccharine strength which is indicated by a color recognized as above No. 16, Dutch standard. It would be absurd to claim that any sugars bleached by an accident which impairs the saccharine strength must suffer the additional penalty which might result from a classification based upon such fictitious appearance.

The department informed the collector that whenever sugars are imported which bear positive evidence of having been subjected to actual contact with and the direct action of salt water, the appraiser shall return the normal color of such sugars, apart from the effects of such accident and the classification by collectors shall be in accordance with such return.

The treasury department in a circular to customs officers issued to-day, modifies the one of the 2d ulto. so as to require such returns to specify the quantity of tin and terne plates used in the manufacture of articles exported, irrespective of the date of importation of the plates from which the exported articles were manufactured.

In case of direct exportation or clearance of the vessel and in case of transportation and exportation entries, the date of the certificate of exportation from the port of final exit shall be considered the date exportation for the purpose of the returns which must be made direct to the secretary of the treasury.

HOW TO BE HUNGRY AT BREAKFAST.

Breakfast is rather a failure as a meal with town people. That ought not to be; there is something wrong when a man is not vigorously hungry in the morning. Where is the fault? Is it in the late dinner? Not in the dinner probably so much as in what is drunk at dinner; in that, and in the nervous strain of the times. It does not matter whether we dine in the middle of the day or evening, so long as we dine judiciously. But the man who has much work to do, and particularly brain work, can not dine in the middle of the day. If he does, he must make up his mind to lose at least an hour of his most valuable time. A light luncheon at midday, with no stimulant stronger than a cup of coffee or a bottle of ginger ale, is the suitable thing. But this must on no account be used as a substitute for dinner. He who lunches in this way at midday must dine in the evening and dine well. The business man should dine at 6:30, or at latest 7:30. The lazy man may dine when he likes. The man who earned his dinner should have a good one—not heavy, but nutritious; not too elaborate, but well selected and well cooked. He should drink, if possible, only one kind of wine and that a light one, sparkling or still. Spirits and beer he should avoid. Dinner should be the last meal of the day, except for those who cannot sleep without a little food in their stomachs. These may take a cup of cocoa, with a little thin bread and butter, just at the moment of going to bed. If attention be paid to these suggestions very few people will fail to be hungry at breakfast.

Don't experiment with your health. You may be sure of the quality of your medicine, even if you have to take much of your food upon trust. Ask your druggist for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and no other. It is the standard blood-purifier, the most effective and economical.

SOME INTERESTING LETTERS

Two Senators and a Supreme Judge.

A Charge that the Judicial Ermine Has Been Again Trailed in the Dust of Shady Transactions.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The Post publishes the correspondence that passed between Justice Stephen J. Field, of the supreme court of the United States, and Hon. Thomas C. Power, United States senator from Montana, in reference to certain imputations against Justice Field; also the correspondence between Justice Field and Senator Sanders, who does not sustain his colleague.

In his first letter to Senator Power, dated January 13, Justice Field calls attention to the interview with Senator Power published by the Chicago Post, charging the judge with being a lobbyist, to get certain judges appointed and with arranging so that land grant railroads should get Montana mineral lands. The judge assures the senator that he is mistaken and expresses surprise at the charges being made. On the next day substantially the same letter was sent to Senator Sanders.

On January 21 Senator Power replied saying his remarks had been in some respects inaccurately reported. The judge's opinion in the Davis-Weibold mineral land case had been regarded by the people of Montana as wrong, and as making an encroachment upon their rights. No one would be more happy than himself (Senator Power) to put the Judge right before those so deeply interested. The letter closed with the words: "If agreeable to you will take pleasure in calling upon you to talk over the question at issue."

Justice Field replied, Jan. 22, regretting that Senator Power's letter was irresponsive and evasive of the matter of which the judge had complained. It did not deny the offensive language nor cite the statements said to have been incorrectly reported.

The suggestion about being set right before the people of Montana was unnecessary. The judge had no complaint against them and did not believe they would knowingly repeat untrue statements about him. He could not consent to an interview so long as the charges were not withdrawn.

Senator Power has made no reply to this letter.

Not receiving any response to his letter to Senator Sanders, the judge again wrote him on January 22, asking for a reply.

On January 23 Senator Sanders replied, saying that the published report citing him (Sanders) as the authority for certain charges made by Senator Power against Judge Field, was wholly unfounded. He had waited with some impatience for his colleague to correct the erroneous report.

Senator Sanders added: "Mr. Power has returned to the city and from your letter I judge has not made to you such amends as are possible, as I had hoped he would, and while I preferred that he should clear this matter up himself, I cannot permit further time to expire without denying the imputations upon you, which the report said were made on my authority.

Nothing that ever transpired between us would justify such a suspicion, and you do not need my certificate to your character after the long and honorable service to your country rendered in conspicuous positions, or any defense against thoughtless imputations.

Justice Field, on being asked if he had anything further to say for publication, replied that in the letters addressed to the Montana senators he had explicitly and emphatically denied Senator Power's slanderous charges, and to that he had nothing to add.

DRIFTING OUT TO SEA.

Italian Workmen in Perilous Positions.

Little Hope of Rescuing Them.

Tugboats That Could Not Handle Their Tows in the Face of a Severe Gale of Wind.

New York, Jan. 27.—The tow boat Webster and two scows belonging to the department of street cleaning are drifting out to sea.

The steamboat is beyond the control of her skipper and crew. She has not been seen since 9:30 yesterday morning when she was sighted by the Rockaway life saving station. At that time she was signaling for assistance.

This much was known late yesterday afternoon, but since then the lookouts on the Long Island coast report that while the Webster was struggling in the teeth of a 50-mile gale her hawser parted and became tangled in and about her propeller.

Thus she was at the mercy of a terrific sea and bobbing helplessly she began drifting out to sea.

The greater terror, however, was about the garbage scows which had been towed out into the ocean as is the custom to be dumped of their refuse. On these scows it is stated that there were at least sixty Italians whose help is required in dumping the scows. These helpless creatures were seen by the outlooks to be moving about frantically, crazed no doubt with fright and their impotence in their terrible situation.

The tug boat H. C. Nichols with two other scows which had been discharged of garbage anchored her tow, and then started to the assistance of the Webster.

The captain of the Nichols concluded, however, with his own anchored scows in extreme danger, and the chances of reaching the Webster against him, he would do better to come to the city at once to report and secure help.

So the Nichols turned her nose cityward and steamed home in the breast of the gale. She had done better had she clung to her own scows, on which, as on the already drifting-out-seaward scows with the Webster, there were 60 human souls—most all Italians.

Scarcely was the Nichols out of sight when her tow of scows were beaten from their anchorage by the tumult of furious seas, and with their human freight were blown rapidly out to sea by the almost hurricane which was sweeping off the land.

The first news of the grave happenings off the Long Island coast came up from the Rockaway lookouts to Commissioner Brensan of the street cleaning department. A dispatch states that the two steamboats, each with several scows in tow, had been sighted off Rockaway beach in the morning. Later a second dispatch said that one of the steamboats with its tow, had disappeared off shore, while the other had anchored her scows under the beach and sailed for this city.

The statements contained in the dispatches were confirmed by the arrival at this city of the department's steamboat Nichols, which reported that she and the Webster had been blown out to Rockaway during this morning's gale and that the Webster and its tow had afterward drifted out to sea and disappeared.

The 60 Italian laborers employed upon the scows of the department had been perforce, the captain said, left on the two scows which the Nichols had left at anchor in Gravesend bay. These men were on open scows in a high sea and a gale of wind.

It was probable that at any moment they might be blown or washed off the scows and drowned. The captain of the Nichols said that he had been unable to rescue the Italians because the waves and wind were so high that it was impossible for him to approach the scows without greatly endangering his own boat and them.

The captain did not then know that already his tow had, as stated, dragged her anchors and was then plunging and drifting out to sea.

Commissioner Brennan was at first disposed to send the Nichols back for the Italians, who, the captain reported, were nearly crazed with terror. He decided, however, to send the Nichols and another steamboat, the Dosoris, out to search for the Webster, as at that time she was apt to be more in need of assistance than the Italians in the scows in Gravesend bay. This was done. The Nichols and Dosorius are out searching for the Webster.

It is not known how many Italian laborers are on the scows towed by the Webster, but it is thought that there must be at least as many as there are on the scows in Gravesend bay, namely 60, besides the captain and crew of the Webster.

These, with the men on the Webster and those on the scows, aggregate 125 men, who, at last reports, were at the mercy of the gale and heavy sea. It is thought that these men are on the open sea.

About half an hour after the Nichols and Dosorius had started on their search for the Webster and tow, the new steamboat Municipal reported for orders. It was at once dispatched to Gravesend bay to, if possible, take the 60 Italians from the scows erroneously believed to be anchored there.

DESPERATE BATTLE.

Outlaws Bitterly Resist an Arresting Party.

One of the Thieves Shot and a Deputy Killed During a Fierce Running Fire.

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 27.—Yesterday morning in Clayborne county, near Cumberland Gap, Deputies Thompson and Williams attempted to arrest two outlaws and horse thieves. A desperate running fight occurred, and one of the outlaws was shot from his horse.

After he fell he took deliberate aim and shot Deputy Thompson through the heart. The other outlaw was then captured, together with the fellow who had been wounded. The body of the dead deputy and the two prisoners were taken to Cumberland Gap. Both outlaws are strangers in the locality.

TO FIGHT A DUEL.

St. Louis Is Excited Over the Prospect of Bloodshed.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—Considerable excitement prevails in German and French circles in the northern part of the city over a prospective duel between two well known residents of that locality.

Yesterday J. M. DeLutz sent to George C. Snyder the usual note demanding satisfaction as only gentlemen can give and receive where honor is in question.

The affair was referred to mutual friends to arrange details of the meeting. The trouble grows out of a dispute over a game of cards.

WILL MAKE THE SUN SHINE.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 27.—Dr. Morrison Munford, for many years owner and editor of the Times, is about to embark in evening journalism. He has purchased the entire plant of the suppressed Sun, and on next Monday afternoon will issue the first number of the Post. He has, it is understood, secured a strong editorial force and has interested in the paper gentlemen of extensive means.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Centralia, Ill., Jan. 27.—Wiels & Garrett's hardware store and John Glorer's harness store were destroyed by fire last night. Loss $25,000. The guard printing office was badly damaged.

WARSHIP ON CANVAS.

The Baltimore's Crew Are Grateful.

Baltimore, Jan. 27.—The crew of the United States steamship Baltimore have sent from California to the Baltimore Sun, a magnificent oil painting of the Baltimore. The picture, on a canvas five feet two inches long by three feet high shows the men of war leaving Naples for Chile, whither she was ordered before the Itata case.

Vesuvius and the city of Naples are seen in the background and the picture is a portrait of the Bay of Naples as well as of the ship.

It was painted in Italy while the Baltimore was there. The occasion of the presentation was a desire of the sailors to show their gratitude to Messrs. A. S. Abell & Co. for giving their ship the fine Abell library, open to the men as well as the officers, and for the part the Sun took in the six days' entertainment of the men and their officers in May, 1890, when the cruiser came to Baltimore and the sailors were lionized by the citizens.

CHURCH DESTROYED.

Flames Cause Much Damage in Albany.

Nothing but Blackened Walls Remain to Mark What Once Was a Handsome Edifice.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Fire was discovered at 4:15 this morning in the French Church of Assumption on Hamilton street and in 10 minutes the entire structure, which was a frame one, was wrapped in flames.

The priest in charge, Father Lavigne, rushed in to save the sacrament, but he had to turn and flee for his life. In half an hour nothing but bare, blackened posts remained.

The flames spread to the pastor's house on the west and to a four-story brick and three two-story frame houses on the east. The entire fire department was called out, and for at least five hours there was a hard fight for supremacy, the firemen gradually getting the better of the fire.

The pastor's house was thoroughly wrecked and the frame dwellings, occupied by nine colored families, were entirely destroyed. The entire loss is about $30,000. The church was valued at $10,000 and was insured for $6,000.

The thermometer registered four degrees below zero, and a high wind was blowing. The firemen suffered intensely with the cold, some of them being literally encased with ice an inch thick and which had to be broken by their comrades so that they could walk.

LAW IN LONDON.

Mrs. Parnell's Bank Account in Court.

Ashforth's Case Will be Heard on Friday—Charged with Embezzling American Funds.

London, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Charles Stewart Parnell, in the Wood will case proceedings, produced in court her bank book with the debit pages sealed. She then made an affidavit to the effect that the sealed pages were irrelevant.

In the court of appeal to-day, Mrs. Ann and Irene Couragem, the interveners, made an application for an order to compel the bank in which Mrs. Parnell deposited her money to bring its ledgers into court so as to show how Mrs. Parnell's bank account stood.

The court declined to grant the application, saying that the judge who will preside at the trial of the suit could order the production of the books if he so desired.

It is expected the case will come up for trial in all probability at the beginning of March.

The court of queen's bench, upon the application of Attorney General Sir Richard Webster, has decided upon Friday of next week, as the day for the hearing of the appeal of counsel for Joseph Ashforth, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the extradition proceedings taken against the latter.

Ashforth is wanted in Brooklyn for embezzlement of funds of the Royal Arcanum Building and Loan association of that city, of which institution he was treasurer.

TO FIGHT THE MESSENGERS.

Express Companies to Wage a New War.

A Combination Formed to do Battle Against the New Brotherhood in Its Contest for the Right.

St. Louis, Jan. 27.—The express companies have combined with a view of crushing in its infancy the new labor organization going under the name of the Express Messengers' Brotherhood.

Since the strike of the southern express messengers the fact has been developed that the organization is not a local one, but is national in scope.

It originated in the east and worked west. According to a member of the brotherhood three-fourths of the messengers east of the Mississippi are members, but the west has not been fully canvassed as yet, though the expectations are that all those west of the river will be within the fold within six months.

Application has been made for admittance to the federation of railroad employes. After being admitted demands will be made upon the various companies to right certain wrongs of which the messengers complain.

HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?

Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whereof she affirmed.

A little book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, will be sent to any one in the land, FREE.

TEN ACRES OF FIRE.

Disastrous Blaze at Elizabethport.

Blazing Oil Floats Out on the Water and Endangers the Shipping to a Great Extent.

Elizabeth, N. J., Jan. 27.—The extensive plant of Borne, Scrymser & Co., lubricating oil manufacturers, at Elizabethport, was almost entirely destroyed by fire last night.

An explosion of one of the stills occurred soon after the day force had left their work and although the night men made use of the fire apparatus on the premises, they were unable to check the progress of the flames.

Still after still exploded and in a short time much of the plant was a mass of flames. The blazing oil floated out on the surface of Staten Island sound and endangered the tugboats which had steamed to the scene to be of assistance.

The Staten Island meadows were fired and ignited the trestle of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad bridge, which spans the sound near this point. The oil works covered ten acres with 150 feet frontage on the sound.

The wharves along the full length of this frontage were consumed, also the cooper shop and the barreling filter and pump houses. Forty-five thousand new barrels, many thousands of barrels of manufactured oil and six immense stills were destroyed as well. The loss aggregates $300,000, partly insured.

The oil company's New York offices are at 30 and 31 South street. The company's great loss will result from the necessary stoppage of their business, as a large number of contracts were being filled by them and two vessels were to be loaded with their product for Europe next week. These shipments were consumed. A new cooperage costing $5,000 was saved.

CHARGED WITH INFIDELITY.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Jan. 27.—Baron Desteurs, minister to the Netherlands, whose wife is in this city applying for a divorce, yesterday charged the baroness with infidelity. The charge came up on a motion to amend the baron's answer to his wife's complaint. The arguments on the motion will be made to-day.

The baron in his amendment charges that the baroness behaved improperly with one Elliott Zborowski, alias Wm. Elliott.

Oil train No. 55 broke in two while going down a grade, and the rear section collided with the front end of the train, demolishing two tanks and the caboose. The train men escaped uninjured by jumping.

A TRUTH FROM "TRUTH."

The New York Central is really first-class in all its appointments. Think of it, it has four tracks laid with the heaviest of steel rails in the most substantial manner, and when you are sleeping or lounging around in one of their superb Wagner cars, and flying along at the rate of nearly a mile a minute, as some of their fast expresses do, you will hardly realize that you are moving, so excellent is the permanent way. A short time ago a special train made the run from New York to Buffalo at the rate of a mile a minute the entire distance.

Taylor's flour is used by all the leading bakers because they find it the best and most reliable flour in the market.

A PERFECT FITTING SHIRT | We have it. Nearly all the men in Toledo know about it, have you tried it? LAMSON BROS.

BIG COCKING MAIN.

BACK FROM THE GRAVE.

A Real Sensation in Southern States.

A Man Supposed to be Dead Walks Around the Streets and Excites the Natives.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 27.—Rufe Moore, colored, was hanged at Trenton, Ga., in May last for murder. The negro's neck was not broken but he was pronounced dead by the physicians. He was cut down, coffined and placed in a wagon to be taken over the mountains to his old home for burial.

It is now pretty certain that Moore was not dead, and the shaking up he received in the ride in his coffin over rough roads revived him, and that he recovered his original strength.

Several reliable witnesses testify to having seen Moore walking on the streets of his native village just as if he had never been hanged. The affair is creating great excitement throughout north Alabama and Georgia.

For pain in the neck and sore throat rub with Salvation Oil, it kills all pain. 25 cts.

The quickest way to banish a cough is by using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cts.

Herr Miquel Will Remain in Office Until the Educational Bill Has Been Discussed.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—In connection with the cabinet crisis it is now said that the emperor on Saturday last made an unexpected call upon Count Zedlitz, the minister of education, and that he then sent for Herr Miquel and Herr Bender.

The whole party discussed the situation until midnight, with the result that Herr Miquel consented to remain in office until the educational bill had been discussed in committee.

The emperor is said to be opposed to forcing the bill against the will of the nationalists and liberalists.

WHAT A VOTE OF THANKS

Would be passed if babies could speak of Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. Thousands have been cured by it. Absolutely safe. R. C. Spohn, D. Harpster & Co., Bowers & Frederich, Geo. C. Nill, and Thos. Vanstone, the druggists, give away samples to those who doubt this statement.

SPORTING NOTES.

John Pong has purchased Regina, one of the best brood dogs in the country. One of Regina's pups sold for $800 at the New York dog show.

Illegal fishing is reported as being indulged in by the residents along the banks of Ten Mile creek. A visit to Edgewater by the authorities might result in much good to the hook and line fishermen next season.

John L. Sullivan forgot last night that he ever joined Murphy's blue ribbon brigade. After the show closed at Ogden, Utah, he began drinking heavily, and before morning he had to be carried to bed. He spent more for drinks than the theater receipts amounted to.

John Mann and Charles Casper played an interesting game of billiards at Hanner's last night, Mann winning by a score of 291 to 300. Mr. Casper has not played billiards in eight years and was a little rusty, but he gave the Toledo champion a hard fight. Mr. Casper, in practice, would prove a worthy contestant for many more pretentious billiard players.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

Kendallville, Ind., Jan. 27.—The farm house of George Myers, near here, was burned yesterday, and Marion Myers, 18 years old, and a brother of Mrs. Myers named Owen were roasted to death. The other members of the family, consisting of seven persons, barely escaped with their lives.

ALL THAT IS NEEDED.

In our physical needs we want the best of anything required, and we want all that is required to be done, to be done promptly and surely, and those in pain, especially, will find all that is needed in what is herein recommended. Mr. T. J. Murphy, 61 Debevoice pl., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "Having been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for some time past and finding no relief, I tried St. Jacobs Oil, which I found very efficacious."—Miss Clara Alcott, Mahwah, N. J., writes: "I bruised my limb and it became greatly swollen and stiff. I used two bottles of a patent liniment which did not relieve me. A physician was called who ordered the limb to be poulticed, and he gave me medicine internally, without benefit. I then got a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, which cured me. It acted like magic."—Mr. Lorenzo Buck, Bancroft, Shiawassee Co., Mich., says: "I had chronic rheumatism for years, contracted during the war. After sitting or lying down, at times, I could not get up, from stiffness and pains. At work my strength would give out, then I would pass through a sickness of several weeks. I had to walk with a cane and was at one time so ill I could not lie down without terrible pains in back and limbs. I tried St. Jacobs Oil; next morning got up out of bed without assistance. To-day I'm a new man and walk without a cane."

NOTICE.

Asa B. Meach, and the unknown heirs, devisees and legal representatives of Asa B. Meach, deceased, are hereby notified that on the 11th day of January, 1892, Oscar W. Vallette and Elvira Law, as plaintiffs, filed against them as defendants, in the clerk's office of the court of common pleas, of Lucas county, Ohio, their petition, alleging that the said plaintiffs are respectively owners in fee simple, have the legal title to and are in the actual possession of the following described lands and tenements, viz:

The said Vallette of lot number five hundred and sixty-nine (569) and the northeasterly eighteen and one-half (18 1-2) feet of lot five hundred and seventy (570), and the said Law of the southwesterly thirty-one (31) feet of lot five hundred and seventy (570), all of the Vistula Division to the city of Toledo, of Lucas county, Ohio; that said defendants appear of record to have an interest in said real estate by way of an unreleased mortgage made by Charles G. Keeler to said Asa B. Meach, on January 28, 1853, and recorded on page 391 of volume 7, of the Record of Mortgages of Lucas county, Ohio; that in fact said mortgage was paid years ago and is barred by the statute of limitations, and should be released of record; that said defendants have no interest in said real estate; said petition prays that said mortgage may be declared cancelled of record; that said defendants may be decreed to have no interest in said real estate and forever barred from claiming any interest therein; and that the plaintiffs may be quieted in their title in their respective parts of said real estate as against said defendants, who are required to file their answer in said action, which is still pending, on or before the 26th day of March, 1892, or be forever barred from claiming any interest in said real estate.
